BRAZIL.

Senator Morgan Wants the New Government Recognized,

And Introduces a Resolution to the Senate Which Is Postponed.

The Wall of a Los Angeles House Falls in.

Austin Gibbons Knocks Out Mike Cushing in 24 Rounds.

Special to The Tribune by the Western Associated Press.

THE UNITED STATES OF BRAZIL.

Morgan Wants the New Government Recognized by the President.

WASHINGTON, December 18.—Morgan offered a joint resolution in the Senate today which was laid over until tomorrow, congratulating the people of Brazil on their just and peaceful assumption of the powers, duties and responsibilities of self government, and on their recent adoption of the republican form of government, and also recognizing the United States of Brazil as a lawful and rightful government, and directing that the President of this country, by his proclamation, shall require the people and the Government of the United States and of the several States to recognize the flag of the United States of Brazil as the flag of a free, sovereign and independent state.

THE LOWER HOUSE.

A Reward of Five Thousand Dollars Offered for the Arrest of Silcott.

WASHINGTON, December 18th.—The House Committee on Ways and Means this morning reported a concurrent resolution for a recess from December 21st until January 5th. This was agreed to.

The Speaker having laid before the House a message from the President recommending that the limit of the International Marine Conference be extended two months, a joint resolution extending that time until March 1st was passed.

The Committee on Rules reported a resolution for the immediate roll call of States for the introduction and reference of bills. Adopted.

The Silcott committee reported a resolution authorizing the Sergeant-at Arms to offer a reward of $5000 for the arrest of the absconding cashier, the reward to be paid out of the contingent fund of the House. Adopted.

UNDER THE REPUBLIC.

All Emblems of Royalty Being Torn Down in Brazil.

NEW YORK, December 18.—The Cyril arrived from Brazilian ports today, and reports business going on just as before the revolution.

The citizens are tearing down all emblems and coats-of-arms having any connection with the imperial party. All streets which have names akin to royalty here been changed to conform with Republican ideas.

NOT A PICNIC FOR CUSHING.

He Was Knocked Out at the End of Twenty-four Rounds.

NEW YORK, December 18.—A kid glove fight to a finish between Mike Cushing and Austin Gibbons took place this morning near Stamford, Conn. Three hundred persons witnessed the contest, including John L. Sullivan. Gibbons was in the pink of condition, and Cushing far from it. Cushing imagined he was going to have a walkover, and he drank freely to within an hour of the fight. The result was he got pounded all over the ring and knocked down again and again. Seeing he was in for it, Cushing tried to lose the fight on a foul, striking foul blows repeatedly, and failing to get a decision on that, butted Gibbons with his head many times, but Dominick McCaffrey, who was referee, wouldn't allow him to get off that way. At one time in the fight Gibbons held Cushing off with one hand and smashed a couple of his enemies outside of the ropes. In the twenty-fourth round Gibbons knocked Cushing out.

A GLORIOUS CLIMATE.

The Rain Causes a Disaster in Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, December 18.—At 3 o'clock this morning the wall of one entire side of the large adobe tenement house on Winston street fell in with a terrible crash, owing to the softening of the earth by the rain. There were thirteen persons in the house, and, strange to say, not one was hurt.

The Navasso Killers.

BALTIMORE, December 18.—In the trial of the Navasso rioters yesterday Henry Jones confessed that he killed Thomas L. Foster, and said that William Jones told him he had killed Mr. Foles.

TWO BOATS ADRIFT.

The Mystery of a Find in the North Sea.

LONDON, December 18.—Word comes from Ostend that a smack picked up in the North sea two boats marked "Gan Quan Sia" and "Leerdam." These are the names of two steamships and they are supposed to have collided. The Gan Quan Sia left Hugo via the Suez canal on November 26th, and the Leerdam sailed from the river Platte.

A COLDWATER DOCTOR.

He Departs and Leaves $30,000 Worth of Debts.

COLDWATER, Mich., December 18.—A sensation has been created here by the disappearance of Dr. P. P. Nichols, formerly Mayor, and at one time Register of Deeds. It is alleged that Dr. Nichols' business methods have impoverished several families, among them needy widows and old soldiers. It is presumed that he has gone to Canada. His debts are estimated upwards of $30,000.

BADLY MANAGED.

A California Fruit Company Fails for $250,000.

CHICAGO, December 18.—The Meade Van Bokkelen Company, dealers in California fruits, failed today. Liabilities, $250,000 to $270,000; assets much less. The store is closed on judgments aggregating $50,000. The company was weakened a year ago by the failure of George W. Meade, the millionaire California fruit and wine man. It is said that the business, though large, was very badly managed.

POWDERLY TO BE CORRECTED.

A Constable Leaves for Scranton to Arrest Him.

PITTSBURG, December 18.—Constable Abaugh left Greensburg this afternoon for Scranton, to arrest General Master Workman Powderly in the Callahan conspiracy case.

Brewer's Nomination Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, December 18.—The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Judge Brewer for the Supreme Court with eleven negative votes.

MISS SPARKS' SPARKLER.

A Warrant Issued to Search Mills College Today.

A Young Lady Loses a $300 Diamond Pin and her Relatives Demand an Investigation.

There was hurrying at the Sheriff's office this morning. Deputy Sheriff Woolsey was excited and anxious to start on a prospecting tour. He was accompanied by a gentleman who seemed as interested as himself. Upon inquiry it was ascertained that Miss Maud Sparks, a pupil at Mills College, was the cause of all the stir.

The young lady was the possessor of a diamond pin in the shape of a star valued at $300. A few days ago, while she went to dine, she left the pin in her room. When she returned the sparkler was gone. She informed her relatives of the loss, and they determined to have the college searched. This afternoon Justice Matthews issued a search warrant, and Deputy Sheriff Woolsey and a gentleman friend of the young lady started for the college to make the search.

CHRISTMAS MONEY.

Employes of the City to Be Paid Before December 25th.

Warrants for salaries for December of officers and clerks of the city government, firemen and police officers, will be paid on the day before Christmas. Demands for salaries of school teachers for December will be ready for delivery by the Superintendent of Schools on Monday next at noon. The city treasury will contain sufficient money to pay all demands in cash, save perhaps the salaries of school teachers. City Treasurer Gilpin says that no apportionment of money received for taxes will be made until January 2d, that he has not time to make the apportionment; that he and his clerks were working last night until 10 o'clock. But Auditor Snow, the head of the financial department of the city government, has a different opinion. He says forcibly, but with thorough good nature, that an apportionment will be made about the 27th of December and that if possible the school teachers will receive cash for their salaries for December before Christmas day.

THE HACK BABY.

Contributions for the Poor Mother Handed to Rev. Dr. McLean.

Annie Wright, the young and unmarried serving maid, who gave birth to a boy in a hack and was taken to the city prison, is recovering her strength, and Dr. Crowley, who has attended mother and child, thinks she will be able to be moved on Friday next. The baby boy is a healthy youngster, and is greatly admired by the Chief of Police and the Police Commissioners. Chief Tompkins started a subscription list for the poor girl and has collected $171 50. This money, except such part of it as has been used for milk, chickens, wages of a nurse and other necessary expenses at the city prison, has been handed by the Chief to Rev. Dr. J. K. McLean, pastor of the First Congregational Church, requesting him to take charge of money, mother and child. Dr. McLean has accepted the trust and probably will have the girl and her baby removed to the Home of the Ladies' Relief Society. The child has an abundance of clothing, ample donations having been made by the charitable.

Temperance Crusade.

The fifteenth anniversary of the great crusade of '73 and '74 will be celebrated next Monday evening by a mass meeting at the First Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of Fourteenth and Clay. Several original crusaders will take part in the exercises, all of which are expected to be of the most interesting character. Short addresses will be given by men prominent in the various professions as well as white ribbon women now in active service in the great home protection crusade. Good and appropriate music will be a prominent feature in the exercises.

If there are any of the original crusaders who have not already reported they are urgently requested to do so either by letter or in person to Mrs. R. R. Johnston, 1136 Myrtle street, Oakland.

Children Wanted for the Play.

A. W. Stilwell, manager of the Oakland Theater, desires to see twenty-five children, boys and girls, between the ages of 6 and 12 years, at the theater tomorrow at 3 P. M., to engage them to appear in the Christmas play at the theater. The play is "Hans, the Boatman," a drama by Clay M. Greene, the California dramatic author. Mr. Stilwell intends to ask the newsboys of this city to witness the play from the best seats, without charge, on Tuesday evening next.

Specials Appointed.

The Board of Police and Fire Commissioners held their usually short meeting yesterday afternoon and appointed C. O. Rogers, Thomas Wells, A. S. Miller and Andrew Carlston special police officers for service around Mrs. Woodworth's tent. These men, however, did not go through the usual formal examination, as provided by the rules of the department.

THE SACRAMENTO

Changing Its Channel at the Yolo Break.

Governor Waterman Telegraphs to Washington for Aid.

A Suicide and a Murder in San Franc'sco Today.

Captain Travier Reports Emin Pasha to Be Out of Danger.

Special to the Oakland Evening Tribune by the Western Associated Press.

THE SACRAMENTO RIVER.

The Channel Changing—The Federal Government Notified.

SACRAMENTO, December 18.—The subject of danger to the navigation of the Sacramento river, because of the break in the Yolo levee below this city, has attracted much attention and comment. Today Governor Waterman called a number of citizens to his office for a consultation upon the best mode of procedure under the circumstances.

It was admitted that something must be done immediately. It was decided that the Governor on behalf of the people of this State, and particularly of the valley of the Sacramento, should ask the California Senators and representatives to urge upon the War Department the necessity of immediate and radical measures of relief.

The following dispatch was sent directed to Senator Stanford: "The Sacramento river is in danger of changing its channel. There is a break two miles below the bridge, which is 1000 feet wide. It means a bar is forming below the creek across the river. As hydraulic mining has ceased, an appropriation of $250,000 in the hands of the War Department is available and ought to be used now to save the navigation of the river.

R. W. WATERMAN, Governor."

This will be followed by a lengthy letter, fully explaining the entire situation, which will be sent over the name of the Governor out to the Senators and Representatives.

A PAINTER SHOT.

A Ghastly Discovery Near San Francisco This Morning.

SAN FRANCISCO December 18—Henry Armstrong, a painter was shot and killed last night at his home on the old San Jose road. Mrs. Sarah Connor, his stepdaughter, and her husband, Edward Connor, are under arrest for the crime. The murder was evidently the outcome of a drunken quarrel, and when it was discovered early this morning Armstrong's wife and the Connors were all under the influence of liquor. The latter claim that Armstrong came home late and attacked his stepdaughter and she got a pistol. Connor says that he struck Armstrong with a stick and then tried to take the pistol from his wife, when it went off, the ball entering Armstrong's body.

A HORRIBLE CASE.

The Terrible Suicide of a Sclavonian.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 18.—One of the most horrible suicides ever recorded in this city occurred early this morning, the victim being Milo Ballabosich, a Slavonian. He had been suffering from a painful disease of the intestines, and had become insane. This morning a man who occupied the same room with him awakened to find Ballabasich standing in the middle of the floor naked with a frightful gash across the abdomen and covered with blood. The man rushed from the room and notified the police. When the officers arrived the madman was tearing out his vitals, cutting them off and scattering the pieces over the floor. He was taken to the hospital, where he died several hours later.

EMIN PASHA OUT OF DANGER.

Captain Travier Crosses Africa and So Reports Him.

ZANZIBAR, December 18.—Captain Travier, the French explorer, arrived here after crossing Africa from Loango on the west coast. He traveled by way of the Shire river. He states that the Portuguese are displaying extraordinary aggressiveness along the river, and says that Emin Pasha is entirely out of danger and is making rapid progress toward recovery.

It Will Rain.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 18.—Forecast for California till 8 A. M. Thursday, rain.

Hunt Is With the Angels.

PARIS, Ky., December 18.—Pat Hunt was hanged this morning.

Wheat and Barley Dull.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 18.—Wheat dull; buyer season, $1 36¼; buyer, '90 $1 39¾. Barley very dull; buyer, '89 80½ cents.

Chicago Wheat.

CHICAGO, December 18.—Wheat, December 77¼ cents; bid, May 82¼ to 82¾ cents, bid. Corn, December 34¾ cents asked; May 33¼ cents.

Two at Once.

Two trials were going on at the same time in Justice Ogden's court today. In the judge's chambers his honor was engaged in trying the suit of L. A. Aldrich against William P. Stone, an action brought to recover $139, due for boring a well on the defendant's premises. The case was tried and submitted. In the courtrooms Justice Henshaw is hearing the suit of Theodore Bee against G. F. Calberg, a constable, and A. Nielsen to recover certain property, or its value, unlawfully taken from the plaintiff on an execution issued from Justice Mathews' court in East Oakland.

THE SOLARO INQUEST.

It Is Found That the Pistol Was Accidentally Fired.

Coroner Evers held an inquest at 10 o'clock this morning in Alameda on the remains of the late Henry F. Solaro, who died at Dr. Woolsey's hospital Monday night.

Mrs. Solaro testified that she had just returned with her nieces from San Francisco on the afternoon of December 2d, and while removing her wraps she heard a pistol shot, and a moment later saw Mr. Solaro stagger down stairs into the yard. When she reached him a was holding his left hand under a faucet. He told her that he thought he could handle a revolver, but that it had gone off accidentally. Seeing blood, she led him into the house and undressed him, and later sent for Dr. Bull, who attended the patient.

Dr. Bull and C. F. Carlson also testified to having heard the deceased say he had wounded himself accidentally. The jury rendered a verdict that the direct cause of the death was serous apoplexy, superinduced by excessive drinking and that the pistol wound was accidentally inflicted by the deceased while examining a revolver.

Twenty-sixth Street Safe.

An assessment was issued today by the Superintendent of Streets for the construction of a sewer in Twenty-sixth street, from Market street to a point seventy-five feet west of San Pablo avenue. The cost of the sewer was $455 09.

USED FOR A SPEED TRACK

Appreciation of the Fine Pavement Upon Grove Street.

Drivers Inclined to Urge Their Horses to Go too Fast—Bitumen Sidewalks.

From the west line of San Pablo avenue to the city limits, Thirty-sixth street, the distance of Grove street is just one mile. The improvement of the roadway has recently been completed, and the macadam is of the best quality. The roadway therefore makes a fine speeding track for owners of fast horses. The constant use of this street by handsome equipages indicates the possession of fine carriages and buggies, drawn by fine horses, that would make lively and gay a boulevard. West street has also recently been improved, and drivers for pleasure make considerable use of this macadamized roadway.

The driver of a fast horse naturally wants his trotter on Grove street, and fast driving is common on the street. For a part of the distance no sidewalks are laid on one side of the street, and pedestrians are compelled to use the roadway. They are in peril of injury from the horses rapidly driven over the smooth pavement. The Chief of Police has noticed the fast driving on this street, and he says it must be stopped. If his requests for mounted patrolmen were heeded and granted he would station a mounted officer on Grove street every afternoon to stop fast driving and to arrest ambitious drivers.

On Sunday last special Police Officer Notter, whose services are paid by the people of this district, quietly took a walk on Grove street. He saw C. A. Sessions of the Oregon Improvement Company enjoying a rapid drive, the breeze singing a song through his iron gray hair and mustache. The officer called on him to stop. The words "Catch me if you can" reached the officer's waiting ear. He did catch Mr. Sessions by a warrant for his arrest on a charge of violating the ordinance prohibiting fast driving. Mr. Sessions denies that he violated the ordinance and will be tried by Judge Laidlaw tomorrow.

The special officer says also Thomas Bonner, formerly the prince of Niles, now a commoner in Oakland, passing him like a streak of a gale. Mr. Bonner also was reached by a long armed warrant, which can travel faster than horse's heels, within a certain jurisdiction, in which Canada is not situate, and he appeared in the police court this morning. He also pleaded not guilty, and will be tried by the court tomorrow.

While the Police Department is striving to stop the unduly fast driving the Council is urging further improvement of Grove street. Electric lights, paid for by the city, now illuminate the handsome avenue of nights, and last Monday evening the Council passed a resolution of intention to construct bituminous rock sidewalks wherever cement sidewalks are not now laid, at the expense of the property owners, from San Pablo avenue to Thirty-sixth street. Mr. Camron, President of the City Council, was asked if the expense for constructing the sewer in the street and for grading, macadamizing, and curbing was not burdensome upon the owners of property, and if ordering a sidewalk would not be a hardship upon the poor owners of small lots. Mr. Camron, who has been the active promulgator of these improvements replied, "Of course the expense is heavy, but not nearly so great as the benefit. Little lots, offered for $600 a couple of years ago, are now held firmly at $2000 apiece. That increase is the direct result of the improvement of the street. Improvement in the kind of buildings being erected is already noticeable."

THE CORONER OBJECTS

To the Illegal Removal of Henry Solaro's Body.

When Coroner Evers learned that the body of Henry Solaro, who died at Dr. Woolsey's hospital, had been taken over to Alameda by Undertaker Ross of that city before he could hold an inquest or before a removal permit had been signed by Secretary Melvin of the Board of Health, he was very angry. "It is mighty strange," said he "that the Coroner of Alameda county is arrested twice for removing bodies from Alameda to Oakland, and an Alameda undertaker can come over here and carry bodies out of the city without even notifying the Coroner of the man's death. That body has been over there for over twenty-four hours now and they have not received permission to remove it yet from the Oakland Health Department. Why, its just as easy to take a body to San Francisco as it is to Alameda, and I can't see why the laws are not enforced here as well as in Alameda."

The neglect of Undertaker Ross to obtain a removal permit has been reported to Secretary Melvin, who will probably do something about it.

THE MASSIES EVACUATE.

The End of the Unpleasant War on Twenty-third Street.

The Massie family has moved away from the cottage on Twenty-third street, near Webster street, next to the house of Mr. and Mrs. John Heath, and probably the several charges against Mrs. Massie and her son, J. A. Massie, of battery and disturbing the peace will be dismissed.

The Youngest Veteran.

The question as to who was the youngest soldier serving in the Civil War, recently raised in the East, brings J. J. Hannan of this city to the front and center as a claimant for the laurels. He enlisted September 21, 1861, in the First New York Marine Artillery, and was at that time 13 years, 1 month and 5 days old. Mr. Hannan lives at 1270 Thirteenth avenue.

Laid to Rest.

At 12:30 today the remains of the late Charles Crocker at 1 Mrs. Crocker were laid to rest in the imposing mausoleum of the Crocker family at Mountain View Cemetery. Only the immediate relatives and friends of the deceased were present at the interment.

Royal Arch Masons.

The members of Oakland Chapter, No. 36, Royal Arch Masons, are specially notified that there will be an election and installation of officers this evening. All Royal Arch Masons are cordially invited.

HIGH SCHOOL BOGUS.

Scholars and Teachers Indignant Over the Publication.

There is considerable feeling in the High school today over the "bogus," a few copies of which were circulated at the closing exercises last night. The Senior B's are naturally the aggrieved ones. Instead of a bogus they have offered a reception to the graduating class and their friends, which is to be given at Cavalry Hall this evening. Their decorations for the exercises were elaborate and artistic, and altogether they have taken a very dignified stand in the school. They naturally feel insulted that a bogus should have been attempted by any other class and while it is too late to recall their invitations, since the party is to be held tonight they have lost some of their enthusiasm. In speaking about the bogus today one of the teachers in the High school said; "A bogus is very like an anonymous letter under cover of which cowards are wont to deal out insults and which very justly merits the disapprobation of the entire community. The Board of Education should so act in this matter that the bogus may no longer be used as a cloak to cover petty spite and jealousy toward fellow members of the same school. Because two or three boys do not happen to like their class president, elected by the votes of his class, is no reason why an entire school should be insulted. Respect for lawful authority is the next thing for such boys to learn."

TUBBS HOTEL.

J. M. Davies Resigns the Secretaryship of the State Board of Trade.

It is well known that the lessee of Tubbs Hotel and the Secretary of the State Board of Trade is J. M. Davies. After running both institutions for one year, he has come to the conclusion that he cannot make a success of both—hence, after mature consideration and consultation with Hiram Tubbs, he has concluded to give his undivided attention to the building up of the hotel. To this end he tendered his resignation as Secretary of the State Board to take effect December 31, 1889. After that date he will be known only as mine host of Tubbs Hotel. His past connection with the Board of Trade for the past two years cannot but be of material benefit to this side of the bay. The Pan American Congress will tarry with him one day. The fruit dealers of Boston, who are coming on a special train in February to view the land, have made arrangements to tarry over night at Tubbs. Mr. Davies has been indefatigible in building up and advancing the interests of the State of California.

SHE MADE A MISTAKE.

A Lady Who Released a Mortgage Without Receiving Pay.

Delia Brewster today commenced suit in the Superior Court against Mary P. Lyon, J. L. Lyon et al., to correct a mistake in releasing a mortgage. The plaintiff avers that during her lifetime Julia A. Parker gave her note and mortgage for the sum of $2000. When Mrs. Parker died she left a will wherein she bequeathed her estate to Mary P. Lyon for life and at her death the property is to go to the children. Mrs. Lyon asked the plaintiff not to push the mortgage of $2000 on the property, and asserted that when a distribution of the estate was had the claim would be settled. So the ladies agreed, and Mrs. Brewster allowed the mortgage to be satisfied of record without receiving any consideration. She now learns that as Mrs. Lyon only has a life interest in the property, she has no authority to satisfy the mortgage. She therefore brings suit to have the question settled in order that she may get her money for the mortgage.

LAMB ACQUITTED.

Not a Crime to Knock Out the San Leandro Marshal.

The jury in the case of William Lamb astounded the court and the District Attorney this morning by finding the defendant not guilty of the crime of resisting Town Marshal Martein. The evidence was conclusive that when the Marshal attempted to arrest Lamb the latter dealt him a blow on the jugular and knocked him out. The defense was that Lamb was drunk and had no intention of resisting the officer, and the intent being lacking he could not be convicted. So found the jury.

Necrology.

Mrs. Annie Thomas, wife of a well known resident of East Oakland, was in ailing health for a long time and thought the high ground of Beulah Park would be conducive to her recovery. Her husband a few months ago bought a little cottage in the Beulah Park neighborhood and the family has since lived there. Mrs. Thomas's health did not permanently improve and this morning at 3 o'clock she died at the age of 59 years. She was born in Wales and had lived for twenty-four years in this State. The funeral services will be held at 1:30 o'clock on Friday at the Brooklyn Presbyterian Church, Rev. Dr. Chapman officiating.

Walkenhorst and Dam.

Charles Walkenhorst had a saloon at the corner of Twenty-third street and Telegraph avenue. His application for a renewal of license was denied by the Council, and Walkenhorst attributed the rejection to the "pull," as he called it, of C. L. Dam, Secretary of the Board of Public Works, who lives on Twenty-third street in the house next to the saloon. Walkenhorst now humbly asks Mr. Dam not to stand in the way of procuring a license to sell liquor at 1098 Telegraph avenue, one block north of his former location, and the secretary probably will not exercise his pull for the distance of a block from his home. The application of Walkenhorst, who now has a partner named Schultz, is endorsed by Justus Held, Frank Spike, O. K. Downs, H. L. Rolf, Otis Baker and John Smyth. The sureties upon his bond are Charles Krumm and A. Westermann.

Announcements.

Central Lodge, Ancient Order United Workmen, will celebrate their second anniversary with an entertainment and ball at Germania Hall this evening.

The Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union will give the "Calendar of Months" at Simmons' Hall, corner Twelfth and Franklin streets, tomorrow evening and Friday evening. A New England lunch will be given in the hall on Friday from 11 till 2 o'clock.

The bazar and festival given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Market Street Congregational Church will be held tomorrow afternoon and evening in the parlors of the First Congregational Church. Admission free.

At Market Street Congregational Church this evening John Currie, the Scotch evangelist, will speak on "Prayer for Revival." It is desired that all members of the church and congregation shall be present. Mr. Currie has been invited to assist the pastor in a series of special gospel meetings which will begin early in January.

A Costly Lodging.

John Allman's barn on Vernon Heights was used as a refuge by ten seedy men last night. A raid was made by the police, and the barn burners were sent below by Judge Laidlaw to remain for ten days, in default of payment of $20 each.

Wants to Administer.

Henry Evers has petitioned to administer upon the estate of Willis H. Tallman, who died in Placer county last October. The estate consists of a claim against the Southern Pacific Company for $1800.

To be Poundmaster.

J. Taylor has petitioned the Supervisors to be appointed Poundmaster of Bay District.

E. C. SESSIONS.

A Banker's Views on the Issue of Bonds.

MUNICIPAL NEEDS FULLY REVIEWED.

Where the Money Would do the Most Good—Salt Water—The Boulevard and Other Things.

From time to time the question of bonds is brought up in this city. As soon as it comes before the people there is considerable discussion, and each discussion results in bringing forth some new points. E. C. Sessions, the President of the Oakland Bank of Savings, has recently returned from the East and has brought with him some new and very good ideas upon bonds and bonding cities.

"Mr. Camron's bond proposition comes nearer meeting my ideas upon the subject than any other that has been advanced," said Mr. Sessions.

Mr. Sessions divides the subject into five divisions, electric lighting, salt water sprinkling, schools, sanitary matters, and fire department supplies.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS.

"I believe that the first matter to be considered is the acquisition of a lighting plant. The old proposition that the city should own its lighting plants and water works is good, but it is entirely impracticable for us to attempt to own the water works. It would cost too much and would make the burden of redeeming the bonds in twenty years too onerous. We can not, therefore, consider this, but we can consider the lighting of the city, and there is no better way to do this than to have the city own the plant of poles and wires. I would not advise the purchase of an engine and power plant, as that would involve a constant expenditure of money in salaries and the cost of running the machinery, but if poles and wires are erected and lamps are purchased there is no expense save the first cost and some slight amount of repairs. Competition could then be invited, and if the Oakland companies would not give the city a fair figure, an outside company could, at a very small cost, erect works here. The city could always hold over the heads of the companies furnishing the power the threat of erecting a power plant themselves. It is not fair to ask any company to put in an expensive pole and wire plant for a one year's contract, and I think that the present company is extending its plant with too little regard for its own interests. This matter of lighting the city is one that is of more importance than people think. The suburbs and the sparsely settled districts of the city get but two benefits from being in the city limits—lights and a place to send their children to school. To the suburbs they never see a policeman, but they do see lights, and when they find their neighborhood nicely illuminated they begin to feel as if they were deriving some benefit from being within the city. It would tend to favor the extention of the limits of the city.

SALT WATER STREET SPRINKLING.

"There is one thing that the city owes to the property owners who improve their streets, and that is that reasonable care should be taken of the streets that have been macadamized. At one time the Council proposed to accept all macadamized streets, but then they decided, and perhaps very properly, that macadam was not a permanent pavement, and the consequence is that in a few years these macadamized streets will have to be relaid. There is nothing that preserves streets so much as water, but this should be done with as little expense as possible. Mr. Camron's plan is a very good one, but I don't think the cost of a plant should exceed $150,000, and, in fact, I don't think that it should cost anything like that sum. The sum that we are now paying out for sprinkling our streets would pay the interest on the bonds and the sinking fund of such an amount as would construct the plant, and at the end of twenty years leave the city with the plant. This makes a good business proposition out of it.

SCHOOLS.

"The school bond proposition is a sound one. People should have a place to send their children to school. It is a necessity that must be met. We also need new sites for our schools, and the more we delay the more it is going to cost us. We need large pieces of property for school sites, and not only is the value of property increasing, but all available large pieces are being cut up into small lots. School sites can always be kept and buildings erected at any time.

SANITARY MATTERS.

"There are a large number of matters that would come under this head. In this matter, as in all others affected by bonds, such works as are of general benefit to the whole city should be considered. The dredging of Lake Merritt is a necessity, and right here arises a complication, for this depends upon the adoption of the boulevard. It would be far too expensive to dredge the lake and convey the refuse to any distance. It would be necessary to adopt the line of the boulevard so as to provide some place for depositing the mud. This might necessitate the building of the entire boulevard, and if it does the same plan should be adopted as was adopted in the building of the boulevard on the west side of Central Park. The city should pay half and the property owners half. The property owners derive the direct benefit and should pay for it. If this were not done it would be very apt to endanger the bond proposition, for people will not vote to build a boulevard that will enhance the value of Edson Adams' property. I know that the Adams' heirs are willing to pay one half of this if the city will pay the other half, but if the city will go on and build the whole they will most assuredly allow them to do so. This matter is not clear, and it will be necessary to have it clearly understood before the people will vote on it. The Third street sewer is another matter that will cause trouble. I do not think that people who have paid for the Main Lake sewer, should be compelled to pay for the sewer from which they derive no benefit. It also remains to be seen whether the sewers could not be extended to the estuary. As for the West Oakland Park, that is going to cost a great deal of money and take a great deal of time. Some of that land was purchased at $1000 an acre, and the owners are not going to sell it for $500 an acre. I do not oppose it, but it is an embarrassing question, and it should be made in a separate account and submitted separately, and then if the people want it, why, all right.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

"I would add $50,000 for the Fire Department. It would be a good business proposition to purchase lots whenever they are necessary, for new engine houses. The department is rather cramped for room and apparatus and hose and this is a good time to supply it."

VOTING.

I would urge that these matters be submitted separately, or rather, each proposition be printed upon the ballot as the names of the candidates are submitted at an election. This would allow any one to vote for or against any question, and would not compel a man to vote against all the propositions in order to kill one which he disliked.

OVER THE STYX.

A Corduroy Road Around the Broken Bridge.

The bridge over the Styx, on the road to the cemetery, is not repaired. The timbers lie in the black waters of the stream. But the funeral processions walk their tedious way to the home of the silent dead without making the detour to Temescal. The Superintendent of Streets is the Charon who has made a way over the Styx. With the planks from the collapsed bridge he has made a corduroy road over the culvert that spans the Styx in New Broadway, and thence across the private property of the Blair estate (permission having been granted) from Broadway to Webster avenue. Over this rough corduroy driveway the plumed hearses and black carriages creak on the road to Mountain View.

The cars of the Broadway and Piedmont line run to the intersection of New Broadway with Webster avenue. Then the passengers bound further northward walk through a barn and board another car, probably an open one, so devised as to freeze to the marrow ever passenger, and ride in the frigid air to their destinations. It is the cars of the road of which complaint has been made by W. C. Little and half a hundred other travelers to the City Council, which complaint will be heard on Monday evening next.

HARD SWEARING.

A Witness Who Says He Did Not Make False Statements,

He Was Guilty of Contempt But Was Excused—Daley's Charge Against Miner.

The divorce case of Eugene Miner against Mary Miner was again before Judge Ellsworth this morning on the motion of the defendant to be allowed alimony pending the trial of the case. A young man named William Kye, an employe of the railroad company, who attacked the character of Mrs. Miner in an affidavit, was called as a witness and testified that it was not true that he had made false statements concerning the lady. He had made an affidavit, and was willing to stand by the statements therein contained. The witness related that a few days ago John Auseon came to him and said that he (the witness) had made some rough charges against him and had connected his name with that of Mrs. Miner. Auseon said that he had relatives here and such charges would hurt him both at home and with the railroad company. Auseon wanted him to go to Ed Robinson's office and see the papers in the case and the witness consented. He admitted that while at the office he had made certain statements to Mr. Robinson, but when so making them he did not mean to refer to the original affidavit on file. He asserted that he had made certain mistakes in his statements, but was puzzled by the questions put to him. Kye had refused to obey a subpoena and was admonished by the court that he was guilty of contempt, but his Honor did not desire to punish him and allowed the young man to go with a reprimand.

William Daley swore to an affidavit in which he said that Miner had accused him of being in his wife's (Miner's) bedroom as late as 11 o'clock at night, when Mrs. Miner had on but few clothes. Miner further charged that his wife was sitting in a rocking chair with Daley as close to her as possible. Daley pronounces the accusations absolutely false. The affiant asserts that Mrs. Miner has always conducted herself in a lady-like manner so far as he has observed. He concludes by saying that the accusation made against him by Miner could only be prompted by malice or by a diseased and disordered mind.

Judge Ellsworth suggested that he was not ready to decide the matter, and took the motion for alimony, counsel fees, and costs under advisement, intimating, however, that he would allow the lady some money to contest the suit.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Jacob Lane of East Oakland will soon leave for the Sandwich Islands on business.

—E. D. Grigsby, a large landowner in Contra Costa, is in town again, having just returned from his ranch.

—Virgil M. Shuey, formerly of Oakland, but now a Walnut Creek merchant, was seen on the streets yesterday.

—Ex-Governor Blasdell of Oakland has received a patent for a new concentrator belt, which is being experimented with at the former's Idaho mine, Nevada county.

—L. W. Maslin, who has been taking a special course in agriculture at the University, has been appointed superintendent of the farm of the Home for the Feeble Minded to be established at Glen Ellen.

—Miss Nellie Owen, a student of the San Pablo Avenue school, is going to start a weekly paper, devoted to the interests of West Berkeley. It is to be a sort of continuation of the San Pablo Avenue school Record, but its name has not yet been chosen. The young lady is but 13 years old.

St. Mary's College.

The semi-annual examinations of St. Mary's College are now under headway at their school building on New Broadway. The examinations commenced Monday. They will continue until Friday, and are being conducted by Brother Cleaun. Further report of the exercises will be given at the conclusion of the examinations Friday next.

At the Peril of Their Lives.

Eight little boys, without the fear of amputation or membral traumatology, were arrested yesterday for jumping from or on board platforms of moving railroad trains. This morning Judge Laidlaw imposed the usual sentence, of $2 fine or one day's imprisonment.

Miss Tracy's school closed yesterday for the Christmas vacation.

MR. PLAYTER VOTED "NO."

An Almost Unheard of Event in the Board of Public Works.

The Board Gives the Council Advice Upon Extending and Opening Streets.

Only once before the eventful meeting last night has a vote of "no" been recorded in the Board of Public Works. That was when Commissioner Fitzgerald voted "no" to the confirmation of the new policemen. Last evening Mr. Playter broke the record and voted "no," and all because of a little requisition. Street Superintendent Wall wanted a set of drawing instruments and some rubber stamps.

Mr. Playter wondered why it was that they had always done the work in the office before without these articles and why they needed them now.

Secretary Dam explained that the articles were necessary, as the stamps that had been used there before were Mr. Benjamin's, and he had taken them with him when he left.

Still, Mr. Playter could not see why they needed so many more articles than before, and when Mr. Fitzgerald moved to refer to the President with power to act, he voted "no."

Otherwise the meeting was dull, quiet and very late in coming to order.

This resolution was adopted:

Resolved, In the matter of the petition of J. L. Wetmore and others to the City Council, asking that proceedings be instituted for the opening of Clay street to the westerly line of San Pablo avenue, the Board of Public Works respectfully reports that Clay street is now opened to San Pablo avenue, at the junction of said street with Seventeenth street and San Pablo avenue, affording a sufficiently wide thoroughfare for the convenience of the general public. The intent of the petitioners evidently is to ask for the extension of the westerly line of Clay street from Seventeenth street to San Pablo avenue, which would involve the taking of a piece of private property of large value, to be paid for by assessment on the property in the immediate vicinity; and the attention of the City Council is hereby called to the fact that only one signer of the petition in question is the owner of property within six blocks of the proposed improvement. We respectfully suggest that in this and all similar cases, where the proposed improvement is of local interest merely and not of public necessity, the property owners who will have to pay for the private property should be largely represented in the petition to the City Council before proceedings are instituted involving heavy expenses on property owners.

As THE TRIBUNE said last evening, the Piedmont Cable road was granted permission to fill in the curve at Eighth and Clay streets to illustrate the effect it would have on the streets.

The secretary was ordered to readvertise for bids for rebuilding the High school.

The bond of the Superintendent of Streets was fixed at $2000.

The office for the wharfinger on the city wharf was accepted from Peter Crimmon.

The bonds of W. B. Hardy, John Ward, Phelan & Fish, Joseph Harris, Pacific Press Publishing Company, Peter Baker and Louis Schaffer for furnishing supplies were approved.

The following work was recommended favorably to the Council: Laying cement walks on East Tenth street, from 150 feet south of East Twelfth street to East Eighteenth street; sewering Chestnut street from the present sewer to within one foot of the north boundary line; sewering East Eleventh street from Twelfth to Thirteenth avenues; sewering Twenty-third avenue from 150 feet north of East Twelfth street to the proposed sewer in East Twelfth street; establishment of the official grade of East Tenth street; that a 5 per cent. grade be established between East Tenth street and the local track of the Southern Pacific Company, as recommended by the City Engineer.

Demands against the Street Department were approved as follows: V. S. Northey & Co., $15 80; Oakland Paving Company, $19 20; James Dallas, $15 65, $21 47, $9 04, $8 91, $19 01, $34 37.

Demands against the General fund were approved as follows: James Dallas, $51 90; P. Crimmon, $30; W. P. Wheeler, $1 25; W. & M. Everson, $7 50; J. Geary, $105 30; M. K. Houghton, $75; James Mulgrew, $75; James Hill, $75; John Wilds, $90; Ed H. Benjamin, $28 75; W. L. Fontaine, $92 70; J. S. Wall, $125; C. L. Dam, $125; R. M. Fitzgerald, $200; E. W. Playter, $200; J. West Martin, $200.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Slave and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. Osgood Bros., druggists

A MINNEAPOLIS Building and Loan Association which employs 2500 men and women and has deposited in two years over a million and a half dollars of realty mortgages with the State Auditor, and has never been obliged to foreclose a mortgage, with 285,000 shares in actual force, has made a profit of over 21 per cent. per annum, while its funds have been loaned at 6 per cent, has aroused the jealousy of many of its rivals. The best gauge of merit is success, and the "American" is surely enjoying it. Their office in this city in at 468 Ninth street.

"My Cake's Dough."

THE AMERICAN BARON.

The Pennsylvania Coal Baron and His Men.

The Pig Iron Baron—A Review of Existing Industrial Conditions by a Clergyman.

Rev. Mr. Cruzan, the pastor of the Third Congregational Church of San Francisco, lectured last evening to a good audience in Hamilton Hall on the subject of "Our American Barons and Their Serfs." In substance his remarks were as follows: "In days of old, when knights were bold, and barons held their sway," the baron, in his grand, old castle, not only owned the land, but the men who lived upon it were his vassals. They were not slaves; far from it, they were free—only attached to the soil where they were born.

"A landless man was an outlaw in those good old days, the 'villeins,' as the serfs were termed, must serve their lord in law, at court and in the battle field. In return his lord must care for and protect him, his land must yield them support.

"The great folks in the castle lived in splendor, and enjoyed life in their beastly, brutal way, but they must care for the villein, and so there was no Lazarus in 'days of old' perishing at the gate of plenty. The baron cared for his serf in his vigor and old age.

"Have we Barons in America?

"Well, not with mounted castles, but let us glance at a case in Lebanon county, Pennsylvania, at the Cornwall iron mine, or quarry.

"Those great hills of almost solid iron, where almost eight million tons have been taken out; thirty million tons yet remain.

"Who owns this vast treasure? Most common people would say, that this great store of rich iron was for the benefit of mankind, but in some way the right to dispose of it for all future time was inherited about 1680 by one James Stuart—now dead—who was then King of England and afterward retired into France.

"This James Stuart, from whom all rights to the use of the great State of Pennsylvania are still supposed to come, made a grant of a considerable part of the planet he was so soon to leave to William Penn and others. The Penns sold these valuable hills to one Turner, who sold them to one Alden, who transferred it to Peter Grubb.

"In 1750 Robert Coleman bought five sixths of these valuable mines from the heirs of Grubb, and the property has descended in the Coleman family to the present day.

"One of the Colemans lives in Paris, the other, Robert H., lives in Lebanon and is manager of the estate. It is true he never knelt before a King to receive the title of 'Baron,' but, nevertheless, he is a Baron in all but name, an American Baron of the very best English type. His interest in the mines is only a part of his estate. He has some 20,000 acres of the best land in Pennsylvania stocked with blood cattle; a railroad or two and a splendid mansion. On the day of his majority besides this vast wealth his guardian turned over to him $1,200,000 in hard cash. Baron Coleman of Lebanon, Pa., does not make midnight forays, followed by his retainers as did the barons in olden times. No, he builds churches, good turnpikes, has endowed the college in which he was educated, is kind and liberal to his employes and tenants. But Baron Robert Coleman is only one of many American barons, and one of the very best. He pays his miners $1 40 per day. He is not compelled to do this. He could make them work for less. Baron Andrew Carnegie's castle is in the same State. While he was writing his book entitled 'Triumphant Democracy,' and later, when he was traveling with James G. Blaine through England he was paying his miners $1 10 per day and the Lehigh coal barons paid from 70 cents to $1 per day to miners and 80 cents to $1 15 to engineers. And this is not for continuous work. The largest number of days' work in the year 1887 given to any one man was 265, and he was paid 70 cents per day. This gave him the income of $185 50 to support himself and family. We have simple citizens who control thousands of miles of railroad, millions of acres of land, the means of livelihood of a great number of men, who name Governors of States as they name their clerks, choose Senators as they choose their attorneys, and whose will is as supreme with the Legislature as the Czar of Russia with his State Council. 'Within thirty years,' says Thomas G. Shearman, 'with the present industrial conditions unchanged, the United States will be substantially owned by less than 50,000 people, or less than one in every five hundred of the adult male population. Even now the state of our present industrial system, coupled with such monopoly threatens to compel every one to seek a master, and when one is master and the others serve, the one will control the other even in such matters as votes.' Just as the English landlord voted his tenants, so the mill owner votes his operatives, the mine baron his miners, the railroad magnates their employes and the bonanza farmer his 'hands.'

"Both the number and the power of the American barons are increasing every year.

"What does it mean to the man to whom Baron Carnegie pays $1 per day, say 280 days in the year? It means servitude and slavery in everything save the name; they must work or starve, and hence the working classes, in many cases, have fallen into a condition of wage slavery which in some respects is worse than that of the black man before emancipation. They are, in reality, at the mercy of their employers, are compelled to sell their labor at a rate fixed by the ceaseless grinding competition of the the hungry unemployed who would work for a mere pittance. Five hundred thousand unemployed men, constantly recruited by the drift from foreign shores, compete with those who are at work, and when a man finds himself just about perfected in his profession he is at almost the same time discovers that he is unable longer to support himself and family, and is pitched out into the merciless world to starve or to be swallowed up by the poorhouse, whose doors are yawning to receive him. When the black man saw old age creeping upon him he knew that his master would take care of him in his last days, and his master did too. Thus I say that in some respects the wage worker of today is worse off than the black man of thirty years ago. What is to be the outcome of all this?

"The rich are daily becoming richer. The dependent class are daily increasing in number, and the poor are becoming poorer.

"Our present wage system, based on competition and the law of supply and demand, must give place to a better [illegible] must be improved, it will be [illegible], for the American people love [illegible] will have it.

"Matthew Arnold said, 'The Americans have a way of seeing clear, of seeing clear and doing right.' [illegible] great change is to come. By peaceful means I think it will come. By [illegible] means it is sure to come."

Why He Is a Republican.

Frank G. Newlands says that the reason of his change from Democracy to Republicanism is because of the attitude of the former party on Free Trade and silver coinage. He also denies that the change of his residence to Nevada was because of an intention to try and represent that State in the United States Senate.

THE PLATTS.

The Lady Is Not Entitled to a Divorce.

A telegram from Lakeport concerning a family formerly resident in Oakland says: "The somewhat celebrated divorce case of Josephine Platt against Alfred B. Platt was decided today in favor of the defendant in the Superior Court of this county, to which it had been transferred from San Francisco. In rendering his decision denying a divorce, Judge Hudson said that there was practically no evidence to sustain any of the charges in the complaint. This case has attracted much attention, owing to the wealth and high social position of the parties, both of whom are well known in Oakland and also in Lake county.

One of the best remedies for a sore throat is to gargle the throat, several times a day if practicable, with Pond's Extract, and on retiring to wrap the neck in a woollen bandage, saturated with Pond's Extract and cold water. If the swelling has not disappeared the next morning, continue the treatment for a day or two until successful.

The proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a sure remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or snuff, but is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once.

Baby one Solid Rash

Ugly, painful, blotched, malicious. No rest by day, no peace by night. Doctors and all remedies failed. Tried Cuticura. Effect marvellous. Saved his life.

Cured by Cuticura

One oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it, but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotches, and malicious. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion, your valuable remedies saved his life, and today he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred. GEO. B. SMITH,

Att'y at Law and Ex-Pros. Att'y, Ashland, O.

Boy Covered with Scabs

My boy, aged nine years, has been troubled all his life with a very bad humor, which appeared all over his body in small red blotches, with a dry white scab on them. Last year he was worse than ever, being covered with scabs from the top of his head to his feet, and continually growing worse, although he had been treated by two physicians. As a last resort, I determined to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and am happy to say they did all that I could wish. Using them according to directions, the humor rapidly disappeared, leaving the skin fair and smooth, and performing a thorough cure. The CUTICURA REMEDIES are all you claim for them. They are worth their weight in gold.

WEDNESDAY.....DEC. 18, 1889

Leave a Margin.

In considering the bond propositions submitted by Mr. Camron, it will be proper to remember that they do not cover the sewerage question, and that this must be dealt with, sooner or later. Further, it must be remembered that the law sets a limit to the indebtedness which may be incurred by a city in the shape of bonds. That limit is five per cent. of the assessed valuation of the city. Under this law Oakland cannot now borrow more than $1,350,000, as the city already owes nearly $400,000 in bonds on its old debts.

If from the present limit of indebtedness we deduct the estimated cost of the purchase of school sites, the deepening of Lake Merritt and the purchase and reclamation of the West Oakland marshes, amounting, under Mr. Camron's ordinance, to a total of $525,000, this leaves a margin of about $900,000 available for sewers and other contingences which may arise.

It is certain that the cost of an arterial sewerage system will be large, no matter what plan designed. Large sewers or small sewers will cost a great deal of money, and in fact the large sewers figured on by Morgan and Allardt would wipe out the whole margin. The question whether the sewers shall be charged on the districts drained or on the whole municipal area does not affect this calculation, because it is not likely that the Legislature will permit districts to assume a heavier proportional indebtedness than cities, and in fact the limit is likely to be put at a lower figure. If on the other hand the sewers shall be made by the city at large—and this will be the probable outcome owing to the difficult and intricate legal questions which must arise under the district plan—we must keep fully in mind the probable cost of the work and leave a sufficient margin to cover it. In this view it will be wise to confine the call to the three great public works, the reclamation of the marshes, the deepening of the lake, and the improvement of the schools. These are all absolute public needs.

Extending Federal Powers.

The difficulty and danger of enforcing Federal process in some parts of the country and the intimidation of voters at the South are treated of by Attorney General Miller in his annual report when he says:

It is proper to say that in some cases efforts have been made, some of them very recently, to prevent and cripple those prosecutions by attempts to intimidate the marshal from serving process and witnesses from giving their testimony, such intimidation going to the extent of actual assassination. But it must not be supposed that hostility to United States courts and officers is confined to election matters. In some districts the civil proceedings of these courts and criminal prosecutions wholly disconnected with the elective franchise cannot proceed because the lives of necessary witnesses are in such danger that it would be simply inhuman to enforce their attendance, while the evidence is abundant that in certain localities no occupation is so dangerous as a faithful performance of duty by United States Marshals. Of course such lawlessness cannot be tolerated. In every case the instructions to prosecute have been coupled with the assurance that no means within the power of this department will be spared to protect officers and witnesses in the discharge of their duties and to bring to punishment every man who illegally attempts to thwart such prosecutions.

Among the Mormons the intimidation of witnesses is common. A case is of recent record where a man was promised the protection of the court in Utah before giving his testimony, but the court was nevertheless wholly powerless to prevent the malicious killing of his stock and other injuries afterward. Similar practices are common among the moonshiners of the South, and this is a class of crime very difficult to deal with, as any crime must necessarily be where a majority of the people do not condemn it.

Attempts will be made during this session of Congress to put a bridle on the Southern intimidators of the negro vote, but it is doubtful if any law will be effective for this purpose. Senator Spooner of Wisconsin introduced a bill of this sort the other day. It provides that chief supervisors of elections shall be officers of the United States Circuit Courts, and whenever a supervisor shall have received notice asking for the guarding or supervising of an election in any city having 20,000 inhabitants or upwards, or whenever the court shall be asked to permit an election to be scrutinized in any town having less than 20,000 people, a writ shall be issued charging the supervisor and his subordinates with the duty of enforcing the United States election laws. This writ shall contain a warning to all persons, at their peril, neither to molest, hinder, assault, delay, nor in any manner to interfere with the chief supervisor or any subordinate in the discharge of his duties. This writ is to be published at least twice before the day of election in not exceeding two daily or weekly papers in the county in which is situated the place where the election is to be scrutinized. If at any Federal election any person shall cause any breach of the peace or use threats whereby any part of the election shall be impeded or hindered, or the lawful proceedings of the supervisors interfered with, he shall be liable to instant arrest and summary hearing as for contempt of court. Any person found guilty may be punished by fine not exceeding $5000, or imprisonment not exceeding three years, or both.

A CIVIL war is in progress in Austria between the guild endowed by imperial grant with the monopoly of making sauerkraut and the unauthorized cabbage scalper on the outside. The latter appears to be getting the best of it in the courts, because being able to sell cheaper than the monopolists, the hearts, and better still, the stomachs of the court and jury are with them.

SMITH of Vacaville, who bought $40 000 of Chicago tea in partnership with "a lady," may have had the courage of his convictions as a prohibitionist but he appears to have been sorely lacking in the better part of valor when he came to choose his merchandise and his partner.

Dime Museum Religion.
The Congregationalist.

Among the announcements of Sunday services in the Boston dailies is one of the Salvation Army: "Conversions nightly, another constellation of diamonds, emotional girl preachers, charming songstresses, musical nightingales recently from Scotland." The programme reads quite like the advertisement of a dime museum. Is it it likely that "conversions" under such a ministry will produce real changes of character, from evil to good?

BERKELEY.

All the Saloons Sell Nothing That Might Intoxicate.

Amusing Incidents in the Casey Trial —How the Saloon Keepers Took the Order.

The Odd Fellows will confer the second degree tomorrow evening.

Charles Ward is able to be out once more after a severe attack of malarial fever.

The School Directors met last evening and transacted the usual routine of business.

A party from San Francisco has bought out Mr. Blackwell's dry goods establishment, and will move the goods into Welcker's building.

J. J. Dunn says that his property in this town can be purchased twenty-five per cent. cheaper today than it could have been before the saloons were ordered closed.

Town Marshal Chappie started out on the warpath yesterday afternoon to serve the notices on the several saloon keepers to close. John Casey was the first victim and he growled like a caged tiger and stated that he did not care for the notice and would fight the issue to the end, that he wanted blood. Julius Meyers took the notice mechanically, put it in his cash box and thanked the officer. John Acheson greeted the Marshal with a winning smile and informed him that he would obey the order of the board. A. C. Moore's establishment was next visited, but as the proprietor was not in, William Moore, the bartender, received the notice. John Acheson stated to the correspondent of THE TRIBUNE that he had closed out his business and would sell no intoxicating liquors whatever, and so he had, for his place looked as if a charge of grape shot had come through there hurriedly. The brewery wagon came early in the morning and took away all beer barrels, etc. "But" said John, "If the Town Trustees do not close up the saloons in West Berkeley, I will fight the thing with every cent I have. If they close them I will not subscribe a dollar to take it to the courts. The trustees refuse to grant licenses in East Berkeley on the supposition that the two mile law was not repealed by the one mile law. Therefore let them revoke the licenses in the West End. They have no right to refuse licenses to us and grant them in West Berkeley. I put up $1500 and over to fight the matter before, and think that I have done my share, but if the Trustees show partiality to saloon keepers in West Berkeley I will come up with the cash most willingly again."

The trial of John Casey came off last evening before Judge Little on the charge of keeping his saloon open after midnight. Town Attorney Graber conducted the prosecution, while E. C. Robinson appeared for the defendant. After some delay nine jurymen were accepted, after which each of the city fathers was called to testify, except Trustee Heywood, whom the constable was unable to find. Their testimony went generally to show that Mr. Casey was open for business after midnight last Wednesday night. Ex-Justice of the Peace Morris was next called on to testify, and admitted that he was in Mr. Casey's establishment after midnight on the date named, after which the following amusing conversation took place:

Mr. Graber—Mr. Morris, what did you call for that evening in Mr. Casey's?

Witness—Cider, I believe.

Mr. Graber—Do you know whether you got beer or whisky when you called for cider?

Mr. Robinson—I object, as we have no proof that this witness is an expert on liquors.

Judge Little, after rolling his quid into a new position and expectorating carelessly on the boots of one of the jurymen who was asleep, said, "I am satisfied that he is—answer the question." Great applause at the decision of the court, and Constable Fonza is ordered to clear the lobby. About 11:30 o'clock the jury were put in charge of the constable. At 1 o'clock they stood 7 for conviction and 2 for acquittal, when they were discharged. The case will be tried again on the 27th inst.

West Berkeley.

Constable Fonzo failed to find Trustee Haywood to subpoena him on the trial of John Casey, which took place last evening. Trustee Laudregan and Town Clerk Speare were not as lucky.

Emeryville.

The trackmen are now repairing the damages done by the late rains.

The workmen on the warehouse of the California Pebble Company have drained the water from the land on which the building is to be erected, and the work is now progressing rapidly.

Golden Gate.

Considerable complaint is heard in this neighborhood about several parties who make a practice of allowing their cattle to roam promiscuously about. The new Poundmaster will receive his appointment at the next meeting of the Board of Supervisors, and it is believed there will be a change of affairs in the near future.

Lorin.

Miss Nellie Holton will spend her holidays at Los Gatos.

A rehearsal for the Park Church Xmas tree took place last night.

Captain Rasmussen has returned from a trip up the coast as far as Astoria.

The German Christmas exercises will take place in Union Hall next Monday evening.

Mrs. Clara G. Potwin has been elected to fill the vacancy made in the corps of teachers of Lorin school by the resignation of Miss Johnson.

F. E. Corder and family will spend the holidays with his sister-in-law at Newman, Stanislaus county. They left this afternoon.

West Oakland.

Miss Abbie Kent is visiting friends in Haywards.

J. K. Stone has returned from a trip to Portland, Or.

A. P. Ledger of Butte, Mont., is visiting friends here.

N. Nielan of 1007 Eighth street has returned from the East.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ehrman, formerly of San Francisco, are residing in West Oakland.

Harbor Lodge, No. 256, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, will hold their regular weekly meeting at Fraternity Hall tonight.

Sixteenth street near Wood is almost impassable owing to the late rains and the way in which the cable company has left the street.

Mrs. Irish and her daughter, Mrs. Sullivan, who were taken sick a short while ago, it was supposed from eating tainted turkey, have so far recovered as to be able to be about.

The two story dwelling and lot, 56x83½, situated on the northwest corner of Eighth and Wood streets, the property of Police Officer Edward J. Chass, has been deeded to Henry P. Squire. The present tenants have been notified to vacate by January 1st, as the building will be raised, admitting another story on the lower floor to be used for stores. The price paid for the property is not known, but it is said to be somewhere in the neighborhood of $5000.

Dr. McCallum, who has lately arrived from Chicago, has taken up his office with Dr. Burton, on Willow street near Goss. Dr. McCallum was formerly located in Chicago, being a graduate of the Chicago Medical College, and also of Yale. Prior to removing to Oakland he was surgeon in chief at St. Elizabeth Hospital. The doctor, wishing to come to California, and being acquainted with Dr. Burton, decided to make Oakland his future home.

WHY COUGH,

WHEN a few doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will relieve you? Try it. Keep it in the house. You are liable to have a cough at any time, and no other remedy is so effective as this world-renowned preparation. No household with young children should be without it. Scores of lives are saved every year by its timely use.

Amanda P. Jenner, Northampton, Mass., writes: "Common gratitude impels me to acknowledge the great benefits I have derived for my children from the use of Ayer's most excellent Cherry Pectoral. I had lost two dear children from croup and consumption, and had the greatest fear of losing my only remaining daughter and son, as they were delicate. Happily, I find that by giving them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the first symptoms of throat or lung trouble, they are relieved from danger, and are becoming robust, healthy children."

"In the winter of 1885 I took a bad cold which, in spite of every known remedy, grew worse, so that the family physician considered me incurable, supposing me to be in consumption. As a last resort I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and, in a short time, the cure was complete. Since then I have never been without this medicine. I am fifty years of age, weigh over 180 pounds, and attribute my good health to the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—G. W. Youler, Salem, N. J.

"Last winter I contracted a severe cold, which by repeated exposure, became quite obstinate. I was much troubled with hoarseness and bronchial irritation. After trying various medicines, without relief, I at last purchased a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. On taking this medicine, my cough ceased almost immediately, and I have been well ever since."—Rev. Thos. B. Russell, Secretary Holston Conference and P. E. of the Greenville District, M. E. C., Jonesboro, Tenn.

MILK WHEN PLACED IN SEALED jars, while warm and fresh from the cows, has the following advantages:

1.—IT IS MORE CLEANLY, not being exposed to blow-dust or dirt, or to the dripping wet hands of the driver.

2.—ITS QUALITY MAY BE SEEN AT A GLANCE—the cream and color itself guaranteed.

3.—IT WILL KEEP SWEET LONGER, because in transportation the bottles will not churn the milk; there can be no churning.

4.—THE FLAVOR BETTER, because it is void of the metallic flavor caused by the action of the temperature and churning of the milk in the tin cans.

GRADUATED.

The December Class of '89 at the High School.

AGREEABLE PROGRAMME RENDERED.

The Names of the Graduating Class—Selections From the Essays and Orations.

In spite of their many discouragements, the Christmas class of '89 completed their High school course in the regular time, and last night their principal, J. B. McChesney, presented them for graduation. According to the time honored custom in the High school, the decorations were in charge of the senior B class and were very effective. A back ground was made of the pepper tree, with great masses of callas, while the large brakes and ferns afforded the necessary lightness. The young ladies of the senior B class acted as ushers. Promptly at 7:30 Miss Annie Koenig of the graduating class played the opening march, and when she had finished there were seated on the stage Superintendent McClymonds, President Marston, Directors Parker, Everett, Chartrand, Walcott, Morgan, Sanborn, Clement, and the following members of the graduating class:

Lorie Abbott,	Claude Leech,
Frank A. Alexander,	Herbert Lang,
Lydia Armstrong,	Samuel Lovell,
Mae Bates,	Pauline Marsha l,
Louise Beauvais,	Jesie McCracken,
Mellie E. Chase,	Maria McDermot t,
Eugene Colby,	Wallace McNamara,
Roberta Conaway,	Carrie Merwin,
Lillian Conner,	Belle Mitchell,
Marian Cullen,	Hart H. North,
Fred Dickson,	Mabel Rahm,
Ernest Dyer,	Clara Safford,
John Edwards,	John Sanborn,
Irma Elsy,	Mary Schneider,
George Furniss,	Lillie Sparks,
Violetta Higham,	Oscar Taylor,
Mabel Johnson,	Myrtle Walker,
Boyce Kimball,	Edward Westall,
Grace Kimball,	Edwin N. Wilder,
Annie Koenig,	Florentine Ziegenbein

The following programme was then given:

Marche Militaire.....Wollenhaupt
Annie Koenig.
Oration..."The Uses of Debating Societies"
Hart H. North.
Essay.....Roberta Conaway.
Song, "Because of Thee".....Berthold Fears
Grace Kimball.
(Accompanist, Violetta Higham.)
Oration.....Oscar Taylor.
Essay.....Lydia Armstrong.
Trio—
Mandolin.....Lillie Sparks
Guitar.....Mae Bates
Violin.....Eugene Colby
Oration, "Education a Necessary Preparation for Citizenship,".....Edwin D. Wilder
Essay, "Individuality,".....Mabel Rahm
Piano duet, "Spanish Dance," Moszkowski
Louise A. Beauvais, Mellie E. Chase.
Oration, "Disorganization of Political Parties,".....George Furniss
Recitation, "The School at Grand Pre,".....Clara Safford
Vocal solo, "Centemeri,".....Mellie E. Chase
Announcement of graduates.....Superintendent J. W. McClymonds
Presentation of diplomas.....E. W. Marston, President Board of Education.

There were some very good musical numbers in the programme. Perhaps the most successful one of the evening was the trio for the violin, guitar, and mandolin given by Eugene Colby and the Misses Lillie Sparks and Mae Bates. They were obliged to respond to a most enthusiastic encore.

Miss Mellie Chase's selection was also well received, and as encore she gave a charming little ballad.

One of the best numbers on the programme was given by Miss Clara Safford in a recitation, "The School at Grand Pre," a selection from the writings of George W. Cable, and one which he himself delivered when in this city. It is rare that so powerful a voice accompanies so slight a physique, and whether she represented the trembling children, the timid school master, or the brusque Yankee stranger, each portraiture was faithfully given.

The announcement of the graduates was made by Superintendent J. W. McClymonds.

"At a meeting of the Board of Education Mr. McChesney gave notice that certain pupils had completed the course prescribed for the High School. Their diplomas are now here.

"To these my young friends, I have but a word to say, you are now approaching the time to act for yourselves. I trust that your training in school and in church has made you strong to do the right.

"I should like to give you a motto which you might always take with you, 'Be true to yourself; seek after and promote the truth.' With this I trust your lives may be a success."

President Marston in his address to the graduates said:

"We have a right to cherish high hopes of you; it is for you to see that they are realized. You may graduate from other schools, but may you never forget this your High school. In choosing your life work, choose that which suits you best. Do one thing well. Bear in mind that it is a hundred times better to be a good mechanic than a tenth rate lawyer or clergyman. Love God, honor your parents, serve your country, and God will surely give you honorable and happy lives."

The distribution of diplomas concluded the exercises.

Selections from the orations and essays of the graduates are appended:

The Debating Society.

An oration on "The Debating Society as a Factor of Education" was given by Hart North. The time is long since past for mere acting and impassioned eloquence to win the applause of the multitude. Facts and logic, sound reasoning abilities must be added that the orator may now influence the minds of intelligent citizens. There is no better method of acquiring this power of logical argument than through the medium of the debating society. In the first place there must be concentration of thought. Next in the search for suitable arguments, varied reading is necessary, so that other things are learned beyond the mere question in view.

The debating society teaches toleration by showing that in every case there are favorable arguments. It also aids greatly one's conversational powers, encourages consecutive thought, and prevents hasty and erroneous conclusions.

One of the most important advantages resulting from forensic practice is the ability to appear before an audience unembarrassed and self possessed.

"In addition to this the reasoning powers are improved and developed. One is enabled to analyze an argument, and to see the salient points thereof. What is usually considered the greatest advantage of all is the knowledge of parliamentary law and usages. In a country like ours, it is an absolute necessity for every educated man to be conversant with parliamentary law. It is this lack of forensic uses that hampers many a good man and able, from taking a leading part in American politics. To the average member of a debating society, all the intricate points of order are perfectly clear. In his ward he will be the leader, not the low demagogue.

"The debating society should be incorporated in every school above the primary grades.

"When that time arrives, and every free born American citizen speaks whereof he knows and acts for himself, American politics will cast aside the foul stains of corruption, and stand forth glorious."

Higher Culture.

Miss Roberta Conaway read the following essay, "A Plea for Higher Culture": Culture is the recognition of the noblest and best in the individual, the never-ceasing desire and effort to develop and foster all the higher sensibilities. It is this that has lifted the race from barbarism. It has taught humanity how to live and how to make life worth living. The race must still advance, and there is need of the best effort each individual can offer, for with each succeeding year we outgrow the conditions of the last.

If this advancement is necessary for the race, is it not more necessary for woman, the guardian of the race? She is the center of the home circle. Home! that shrine of our deepest and tenderest devotion. Through her home, she molds the world, and on her hearth stone burns the quenchless flame that lights us the pathway of true progress. Wise men have said that in the first seven years of his life, a boy learns more than in all his after years together. Does this not show that a mother needs a superior understanding to direct the little eager mind in the first lessons of its life.

It is an every day occurrence to hear some one say: "What is the necessity of giving a girl a good education? The only thing she does after all is to marry." Why, that is the very reason of all others why she needs be educated.

One of the greatest evils existing is the habit that girls and women of all ages contract, of reading all sorts of trashy literature. Only such books should be selected as tend to strengthen the mind, elevate the taste and build up the character. The prime object of reading is to help us after reflection. One must read to find the author's thought, and to study his characters, not as phantoms, but as persons so placed, that we can read their thoughts and learn of humanity thereby. Beyond this nothing more can be said. All think for themselves, and different persons may draw different lessons from the same objects. So shall girls be furnished with all that will help to ripen them in mind. And we will trust that each will become

"A perfect woman, nobly planned,
To warn, to comfort and command."

Self Challenge.

Oscar Taylor delivered an oration on "Self Challenge," from which the following is taken:

Self-challenge is an endowment of nature for the restraint of evil and for the guidance to a useful and contented life. It is that quiet counselor within us that urges our conscience to assert its power; to persuade us to act according to its dictates; to curse us with disquietude when we have disobeyed it. Without self challenge, an attribute of nature herself, how vain would be religious creeds, how vain systems of philosophy! It incites high moral principles and practices; it strengthens the leading minds of the world; it actuates the upholders of the laws of governments.

If men are ignorant of the history of indulgence let them read of the emptiness of the once grand and glorious Egypt! Let them read of the ruin of the once beautiful and learned Greece! Let them read of the devastation of the once powerful and prosperous Carthage, and of the downfall of proud and majestic Rome. The history of a human being, when he has become enslaved to unrestrained habits, may be likened to that of some mountain lake. Those waters, held in by their stalwart embankments, lie calm, and seemingly harmless. But soon a mighty storm rages over them. That which was once like a mirror is now dashing and seething; the embankments are torn asunder, and the waters rush down the mountain side, wrenching forests from their very foundations, and blotting villages from the face of the earth. In view of the destruction wrought by indulgence in other countries, we have grave apprehensions lest at some time lack of individual self challenge in the majority may bring decline. Thus to uphold this land and government, its prosperity and power, we must rest not on the good qualities of the few, but on the self restrained, self-governed mass. And, farther, we see that our life is not our own to while away 'mid revelry and mirth, but that it is our country's; for her it should be educated and used.

Arboreal.

Miss Lydia K. Armstrong chose for the subject of her essay "Trees."

In every beautiful object there is found lying beneath its mere external qualities a principle by which it connects itself with the soul. Thus our senses are pleased with the beauty and form and coloring and the delicate perfume of a flower, but yet there is something more than these—a shadowing forth of the divine power, a revelation of the unseen, the spiritual, the infinite.

This is the great end and use of all beauty. The tiniest flower has a message to the soul. It speaks of the purity, beauty, and sweetness of which itself is but a type.

But of all sensible objects there are none fuller of this thought than trees. If we are to behold them in all their freshness of leaves, beauty of outline, and majestic proportions we must look up. So are our thoughts drawn upward, and in the serene and settled majesty of our surroundings we forget self and the things of this life in far greater thoughts, for we seem to be in His own cathedral meet. What solemnity of feeling, what awe, what wonder do we feel—nay, what strange, religious fear and disposition to worship steals over us! We no longer think it strange that

Our forefather Druids in their oaks imagined sanctity.

These are races who worship the trees themselves, and not wholly heathen can they be whose god is so enshrined.

Living monuments of departed ages do we behold in trees. In comparison we are but creatures of an hour. They have beheld what man can see only by the eye of faith.

Those who live crowded in large cities need the ministry of trees more than any other class of people. Let them come within the circling gloom of the cooling shades and they will be made better for having been there, for the soul, although it may be cramped by worldly cares, will struggle upward and expand until it attains the true proportions.

Then let us bring to our cities to adorn our parks and walks more of these beautiful children of the forest, if it be for no other reason than to teach us to look upward, and to give to the brow its erect and natural position; that as we look upward we may also grow upward, and even while bound to this earth, rise and stretch heavenward.

Educate or Perish.

"We Must Educate or We Must Perish," was the subject chosen by Edwin Wilder for his oration, of which the following is an abstract.

Political parties are voluntary, and yet necessary combinations of citizens for the purpose of carrying on what they believe to be best for the country and themselves. But it is possible that a party may fail in its object and become a master, not a servant, as is the case in the United States at present. The cause of it is evident. The political structures of the present time are permeated with subservience to liquor interests and monopolies. The one franchises the only class of voters subject to criminal influence. The other, in order to gain the desired ends, furnishes money wrung from the people.

Why is it that law-abiding citizens endure this? Firstly, because there is a scarcity of proper leaders: true, there are many leaders, so called, self seeking demagogues, but few indeed are those who see clearly what ought to be done, and disinterestedly aim to do it.

Secondly, because the mass of the people are unused to methods of politics, and are playthings in the hands of the tricksters and bosses.

Now the question is: How may the people become masters of the situation, and rule as seems best for the country and themselves? The change must be not in the manner of expressing their will, but in the people themselves. Being leaderless they must become in effect their own leaders.

To lead themselves requires knowledge, both of the questions at hand and of the means necessary to register their views and purposes in the laws of the land. It is often considered that "practical politics" is an occult art, known only to a few long headed leaders, and hardly a fit subject for a decent man to study. On the contrary, it is the duty of every American citizen to have an understanding of practical politics as they should be. And the power to act understandingly is sadly lacking in the United States. One set of our present voters cannot read his ballot, let alone, discuss thinkingly, the conditions confronting him. And the state of affairs is growing no better. Five out of twelve American children are not in school, and from them must come the voters of the future.

But when this feeling of the necessity of education becomes fixed on the whole people then, as a natural consequence, schoolhouses will rise in the desert places of our land, everywhere that man can live and children play. Then, too, must come a change in methods. The child, even in the lowest and most important classes, must be surrounded by such teachings and influences, that he will grow up in an atmosphere of patriotism. Then the rudiments of learning will include not only the three R's, but the primary principles of our government, so that as the child matures, he may have a foundation for his political belief, and a sense of personal liberty will take the place of indifference.

My plea is for education, and all its aids of teachers, systems and places of instruction, not only for the love of knowledge in itself, but because by education alone, can the country triumph over the political corruption that threatens her very life, in the self government of her citizens.

Individuality.

Miss Mabel Rahm wrote on the subject of "Individuality." Wordsworth says in one of his sonnets: "The world is too much with us; we have given our hearts away, a sordid boon." In these lines he recognizes the prevalent tendency to drift into the common opinion. We are so afraid to stand alone. The burden of doing as other people do grows upon us. Only the infant is free from it. It should not be thus. In all past history we learn that those who have done the most for the world have been the ones who acted according to their own idea of right. "They are slaves who dare not be In the right with two or three." "True to myself"—I think in those words the secret lies. In order to be true to ourselves we must have a thorough knowledge of ourselves, and this is obtained by self examination. Tennyson has named three requisites for a powerful life—self reverence, self knowledge, self control. If we must be self dependent, we must have a standard. In other words, we must answer for ourselves the question, "What Is Truth?" Truth is a strict adherence to our highest ideal of right. It is what the soul, the spark of divinity in us, tells us is our duty. One of our poets has spoken of the blessing of having Truth incarnated in the life of Christ. We have a clearer idea now of what absolute truth is than the people who lived before the Christian era. In that Divine life the abstract was made more tangible, and the law of love which Christ left us, and which is a summing up of the whole code of laws which we might lay down in our efforts to follow Truth, is all we really need.

Once having fixed our standard, nothing should interfere with our loyalty to it. The fact that we are alone, with a world opposed to us, should never make us less bold or determined.

Some Dangerous Tendencies.

The following is an abstract from an oration by George B. Furniss. That there are grave errors in our political system is acknowledged by all, and it is also believed by many that these faults are within the scope of correction. The following are possibly the most serious of the dangerous tendencies of American politics. The two great parties are divided by local interests only; they are used and controlled by great private corporations; their management is so entirely in the hands of unscrupulous politicians, that good men are deterred from entering public life.

On only one subject do the two parties differ, and that difference is more apparent than real. The whole system is a clash of selfish local interests, and the artisan who has shouted himself hoarse for his party because of promised protection finds that his wages are not increased, now the cost of living diminished, though the capitalist tears down his store houses, and builds larger, and buys sons-in-law in Europe, as an investment for his surplus millions. In the meantime the Democratic party is governed little by anything definite in the principles that underlie Democracy, but rather by traditions that are mostly local. With the caucus as the foundation, the unprincipled politician has gained control through the party machinery, of the city, county, State and national politics. As a direct result, respect for the public officeholder has decreased; the sturdy business man declines to be ranked with such. A new party with higher principles and grander aims, with an appreciation of interests that are truly national, must be established. If the two parties shirk these great questions for fear of losing the foreign vote, then the best service they can render their country is to disorganize and give place to a party of progress. Already there is the forerunner of a single party which shall take definite ground on questions that affect the whole American people—a party that shall place the American people in possession of their body politic and shall perpetuate the greatness of our unrivaled American commonwealth.

ALAMEDA.

The City Hall Site—Recorder Radcliff.

An inspection of the boilers at the electric light works was recently made, and they were found to be in a good condition.

Nearly $18,000 has been paid in city taxes. City Assessor E. Minor Smith is acting as Tax Collector in the absence of Mr. Palmer, who is ill.

Plans and specifications have been adopted for the grading and curbing of Sherman street, south of San Antonio avenue. Several handsome residences are projected to be built on this street next spring.

The matter of purchasing a telegraph fire alarm system will soon engage the attention of the City Trustees. It is proposed to pay for one out of the general fund and reimburse it after the bonds are sold.

The contest in City Recorder Radcliff's getting a salary. Already there is an army of prospective applicants for the office. Recorder in the event of a vacancy, Justice Byler is performing the duties of the office, and if it is decided that he can legally do so, it is not likely that the City Trustees will make any change.

Those property owners of Pacific avenue who are anxious to take the contract for its improvement into their own hands, won a point at the last meeting of the City Trustees. The only large property owners who have not joined the movement are E. B. Mastick, Theodor Meetz, Mr. Piper and Mrs. E. A. S. Page.

It has been found that the sewer pipes in Park, Oak, and Walnut streets are not cemented at the joints. They were laid about fifteen years ago and the contractor seems to have done poor and dishonest work. Sand works its way into the sewers at the joints, and it may yet be necessary to tear up the pipes and construct the sewers over again.

Two additional proposals have been made to the City Trustees for a city hall site. W. T. Daggett, the well known attorney-at-law, offers his residence property fronting on Pacific and Buena Vista avenues west of Oak street, for $15,000, and H. P. Moreal offers a lot 200x207½ feet on the south side of Santa Clara avenue, 250 feet west of Oak street, for $14,500. Thirteen other proposals have been previously submitted, and all will be considered in executive session by the City Trustees at an early date.

FRAUDULENT.

Benson's Assignments Made to Defeat His Creditors.

Judge Finn has set aside the assignment made by John A. Benson of his property, consisting of a piano valued at $500; oil paintings, $1500; books, $600; watch, $500; colt, $500; furniture, $3000; music boxes, $40; half interest in stock ranch in Arizona, $20,000; timber land in Mendocino county, $1280; and 2500 acres of land in Contra and Alameda counties of uncertain value.

The assignment of property worth $125,000 to Mrs. Bond by Benson to secure a loan of $1500 is declared fraudulently made to defeat his creditors. It is declared that the assignment made by Benson to W. F. Wood for the benefit of his creditors was fraudulent and void; that conveyances made to the Nevada Bank were also fraudulent; that Miller is entitled to have a receiver appointed and to bring an action to have set aside the assignment made to George Grant to secure an indebtedness to the Nevada Bank; that Benson would be required to convey to the receiver all of the property included in his assignment; and that George Miller should be entitled to his costs in procuring witnesses to establish his claim for $30,000 against Benson.

Dee Kirkland proposes to settle down to business for the winter. He says he has had baseball enough for a few weeks.

Andrew J. McDonough, the popular conservative crank, has resigned his position on the bleachers until next season.

Charley Dooley has made a hit as a collector for a local firm. He is popular with the ladies, and never takes no for an answer.

T. C. Cogan says he is lost during the winter season for want of baseball games. He likes to see the Pets play above all other teams.

Neither Hardie nor Long have been rewarded for winning first place in the batting and base scoring ranks. It is a sure shot that now they will not even get "thanks."

Colonel Rowlison is not making a very great effort to organize his team for 1890. He proposes to go slow and does not intend to run a heavy salaried team next season.

Mr. Tip O'Neill has not secured a position as yet. He may, however, accept clerking ere long. Tip's time is much taken up in thinking over the new cage for next season.

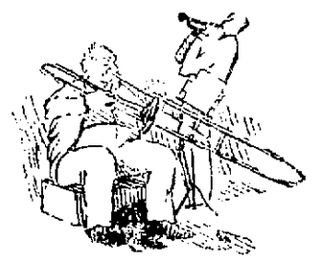

The Oakland contingent at the Haight street park Sunday was very small. This goes to show that Oaklanders will not take the long trip unless they are to be rewarded by seeing the home team play.

James McDonald will be in the home nine next season. Jim has avoided factories during the past season, and in consequence will be rewarded with another year's work. McDonald is married and resides in Alameda.

Colonel Tom will not receive the pennant until the meeting of the league in January. There will be no formal presentation, no hurranhing, and no banquet. The Colonel, it would seem, has had all the glory he wants this season.

A great many people seem to think that Lou Hardie is looking for an engagement. As a matter of fact, Hardie has several offers in his inside pocket and is considering where he will go. It is safe to say, however, that he will be found in the same team with Columbia.

Colonel George Mason and Colonel Harry Melvin are the two most popular cranks in East Oakland. They can talk baseball with the "fans" in the upper circle like old timers, and can describe a liner with "whiskers" as clearly and definitely as they can a "sky scraper." When it comes to explaining to the ladies what "slide, Kelly, slide" means they get there with both feet. Now, Colonel Melvin is some thing of a musical chap, and, by the way, he can tell one just as much about music as he can about baseball. He is simply great on these two subjects. The other evening, while talking on the subjects of music and baseball, Colonel Melvin suggested this little picture for THE TRIBUNE'S sporting column.

Wehrle is going East in a few days on a visit to his relatives. He expects to return and secure an engagement in the California League. As he and Manager Robinson do not agree, it is certain that he will not be found in the ranks of the Oakland nine.

Mike Kelly, the $10,000 beauty, says there is no truth whatever in the statement that he signed a Brotherhood contract on a Sunday. The King says that as a matter of fact, he signed a contract with Al. Johnson, which was witnessed by Ed Harlon and was dated Monday, November 25, 1889. The contract contains a provision that Mike shall abstain from liquor during the playing seasons of 1890-91 and 1892.—Exchange.

Ned Morris says: "I am not going to touch a drop of liquor for ten months from the time I start to condition myself, and I am going to pitch better ball next season than I ever pitched in my life. You'll see me on the top round next year, sure." If that is not a virtual confession that his past work has been below par, and that he drew a salary under false pretenses, what would you call it?—Exchange. And Ned is an Oakland boy.

Clarkson, Ganzell and "Pop" Smith of the Bostons will be seen with the Boston Club of the National League next season, Mike Kelly did everything in his power toward inducing the trio to sign Brotherhood contracts, but without avail, and early last week the three players affixed their signatures to contracts to play in the National League. It is said that Clarkson has signed for three years at $7000 for each season's work. It is not known what salaries are to be paid Ganzell and Smith, but rumor has it that they will receive an increase over the amount which was paid them for last season's work.

THE CANOE CLUB.

An Informal Race on the Creek Last Sunday.

Commodore Blow has been jubilant since last Sunday and many of the Commodore's friends have been at a loss to know the cause of his hilarity. Those on the inside, however, know well the cause of Mr. Blow's happiness. The fact is that the Mystic has regained its lost laurels and that is why the Commodore is crowing. Last Sunday the members of the Canoe Club took a cruise on the creek and during the sailing an impromptu race was proposed. Mr. Engelbrecht was invited to try his new canoe in the race and readily accepted, believing that the new sailer would distance the old craft. The "go" was given and the Mystic with Commodore Blow took the lead over the four mile course. When the Mystic crossed the line Mr. Blow kept time and found that he had beaten the new boat by six minutes. That is why he is happy.

Then another race was had in which the Mystic, Gypsy, Agnes and Mr. Klosen's boats took part. This was over a course of four miles, but before the race was completed the wind died out when the Mystic was half a mile in the lead. Mr. Blow is of the opinion this week that the time has not yet arrived to house the Mystic and asserts that it is still the leader of the fleet.

HAWKETT'S GOSSIP.

He Says the Brotherhood Will Be a Complete Success.

"I'm not making any cracks about the Brotherhood," said Will G. Hawkett, the staunch friend of Jerry Denny, "but I am of the opinion that the Players' League will be a grand success. That is I mean to say if they continue to manage affairs in the same elegant style as they have done in the past they cannot help but succeed. Why, don't you know they have secured 120 players out of the 140 players of the National League. They are not going to make a failure when they have an $80,000 reserve fund to draw from. I see my friend Jerry Denny has signed with the National League and I understand they caught him with $700 advance money and with an offer of $2000 a year, which he accepted. George Van Haltren has signed with the Brotherhood and has sent his contract back East. I understand he is to receive $3000 a year. Many said the players were making a big bluff, but recent events show that they have been conducting their business in a very shrewd manner. I only hope that some day we will have a Players' League in California."

The Baseball Man's Soliloquy.

To sign, or not to sign—that is the question.
Whether 'tis braver in man's eyes to suffer
The wrongs of a classification rule
Or to take up arms against a host of magnates,
And by opposing, end it. To kick—to fight
No more—to fight—to say we end
The class rule and a dozen other ills
Now heaped upon us. 'Tis a consummation
Devoutly to be wished. To sign—to play.
To play—perchance to mull. Aye, there's the rub
As by this classing rule each mull doth come
When averages are figured up at season's close,
Must give us pause. There's the respect
That makes calamity of playing ball.
For who would bear the scolding manager,
The magnates' wrongs, the reporters' contumely,
The pangs of uncarned sneers for some misplay,
When he himself might his own magnate be,
By winning the fight? Who would contracts keep,
To grunt and sweat under a tyrant's rule,
But that the fear of some great afterslap,
Some breaking up in this new scheme which looks
So bright to our eyes just now—puzzles the will
And makes us rather bear those ills we have
Than fly to others that we know not of?
Thus scheming doth make blowhards of us all,
And thus the present style of ebullition
Is simmered down by the pale cast of thought,
And this enterprise of great pith and moment
With this regards its chances fade away
And lose the name of action.

THE PUGILISTS.

Sullivan is on His Way to Mississippi.

John L. Sullivan, the boss pugilist, is on his way to Mississippi to receive his sentence for prize fighting. He says: "I will submit peacefully to any punishment the courts of that State may impose upon me. Southern people are square. I do not expect anything unjust from them. Next year I shall be ready to talk business with Kilrain, Jackson or Slavin, but until then I shall let them do all the talking."

Sullivan asserts that he has not as yet received any definite offer from the California Club to fight Jackson. The amount of offers he has received aggregate $225,000.

The directors of the Golden Gate Club last evening discussed the proposition to match Corbett and McCaffrey. The fighters wanted a purse of $1000 hung up, but the directors thought that $500 would be a neat little sum.

The fight between Billy Murphy and Ike Weir is creating considerable talk. Both pugilists are a little slippery, and it may be possible that some people may be fooled in the fight.

ATHLETIC ARROWS.

The Reliance Whist Tournament Drawing to a Close.

The Reliance whist tournament will close at the end of this month. Nearly all the games have been played, and the result will be close. Ames and Harris and Remillard and Gray and Fitzgerald and Travers are making a lively fight for first place.

A young man named Johns is at present instructor of boxing at the Reliance Club. He is not the regular teacher, and has been filling Jim Corbett's place during the latter's absence. Now that Corbett has joined the ranks of professional fighters he will not again be employed by the Reliance Club. Johns wants to be elected to his position and the directors have the matter under consideration.

While Jack Kitchen, the champion heavy weight boxer of this county, was boxing at the Acme Club a few nights ago he sprained his wrist, and has been laid up for a few days. More than a year ago Kitchen sprained his wrist and it has been weak ever since, and some are of the opinion that it may always trouble him in boxing.

The Acme Club has been in debt for some months, and have found it a hard pull to play even. Recently they have taken in a number of new members, and expect to be out of debt by the first of the year.

COLD POISON,

But She Could Not Have Taken Very Much.

Mrs. Barney Aldren, a young married woman 26 years of age, nearly committed suicide yesterday by taking strychnine. It is said that she tried to committ suicide because her husband sent their child to his brother in Portland to be educated as a dentist, which she opposed. Others say that Mrs. Aldren took the poison by mistake. Dr. Collins was called in, and it is probable that she will recover.

THE YOUNG ATHLETES

Of the Young Men's Institute Have a Pleasant Evening.

There was a large gathering at St. Mary's Hall, corner Seventh and Grove streets, last night, the occasion being an entertainment given by the Young Men's Social and Athletic Club, composed of members from the different branches of Young Men's Institutes located in this city. Promptly at 8 o'clock the entertainment was opened with a piano solo, "Rocked Beside the Sea," by Miss Bessie Lynch, which was followed by a vocal solo, "Rose Leaves," by Miss Louise Cahill. The feature of the evening came next, an address by Hon. J. F. Sullivan, Grand President of the Young Men's Institute. The subject of his address was: "The Aims and Purposes of the Young Men's Institute." He said the Institute was a growing one, and new branches were being established all over the country. He said a new branch would soon be started in this city and another one in Southern California, and that an organization started on this coast was spreading all over the Union. The union was composed of such an array of young men as could be found from the Sierras to the sea, and the mothers and sisters of the young men should try and keep them together. The young men should come together at the headquarters of the institute as much as possible. Good libraries should be established at the headquarters and plenty of instructive reading matter should be kept on hand. In closing the speaker said: "It is our purpose to build up such a strong organization that all men will respect it and its members." The balance of the programme was then rendered, which was as follows:

Catarrh Can't Be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you have to take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucus surface. Hall's Catarrh Cure is no quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics know, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucus surface. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials free.
F. J. Cheney & Co., Prop., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, price 75 cents

Smart Weed and Belladonna, combined with other ingredients used in the best porous plasters, make Carter's S. W. & B. Backache Plasters the best in the market. Price 25 cents.

Why continue the use of irritating powders, snuffs or liquids. Ely's Cream Balm, pleasant of application and a sure cure for catarrh and cold in head, can be had for 50c. It is easily applied into the nostrils, is safe and pleasant, and is curing the most obstinate cases. It gives relief at once.

Catarrh

Is a constitutional and not a local disease, and therefore it cannot be cured by local applications. It requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, working through the blood, eradicates the impurity which causes and promotes the disease, and effects a permanent cure. Thousands of people testify to the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for catarrh when other preparations had failed. Hood's Sarsaparilla also builds up the whole system, and makes you feel renewed in health and strength.

Catarrh

"I used Hood's Sarsaparilla for catarrh, and received great relief and benefit from it. The catarrh was very disagreeable, especially in the winter, causing constant discharge from my nose, ringing noises in my ears and pains in the back of my head. The effort to clear my head in the morning by hawking and spitting was painful. Hood's Sarsaparilla gave me relief immediately, while in time I was entirely cured. I am never without Hood's Sarsaparilla in my house as I think it is worth its weight in gold."—Mrs. G. B. Gibb, 1029 Eighth street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

The second of the series of articles by Miss Millicent W. Shinn on "Charity and Poverty in San Francisco" is contained in the holiday number of the Overland.

The road leading up Morrison canyon to the Goad ranch and other points in the hills is impassable for teams owing to a large landslide obstructing the way.

M. Martin, father of James Martin of this place, arrived here last Saturday, for a visit with his son. He came by steamer, being five weeks in making the passage.

W. B. Hughes of Mission San Jose has the contract for painting the church and is engaged with his assistants in the work, which will be finished about the first of next week.

H. E. Mosher of Niles was one of the purchasers at the auction sale of the Roberts tract lately held in Irvington, securing a six acre corner plot of ground at $275 per acre.

A number of Niles people attended the entertainment given by the Junior class at Washington College last Saturday evening, and enjoyed very much the numbers of the programme.

The following deeds have been lately recorded: H. C. Gregory and others to J. J. Butler, lot 17 and portion lot 16, Gregory tract, near Niles, consideration named, $5. Pacific Improvement Company to First Congregational Church, lot 100x200, Niles, $100.

The rain continues at intervals. An occasional glimpse of the sun varies the monotony of weeping clouds, trickling streams, mud and the general moist condition of things. The storm of Monday night increased the rainfall for the season to 15.03 inches.

A number of Niles residents attended the called meeting of the Alameda County Fruit Growers in Haywards last Saturday. Any steps toward co-operation in the shipment of fruit East for the coming season cannot fail to be in the right direction, as in this method, no doubt, the best results will be achieved.

The children of the Sabbath school are requested on Sunday next to bring each their little offering to be included in the Christmas box, which will be forwarded to the Children's Hospital and Training School for Nurses in San Francisco. In such ways are children taught the blessing of giving as well as receiving.

The work of papering the church is being done this week by the employes of McGovern & Cahill of Oakland. It is desired to have the building in readiness for dedication services between Christmas and New Year's. The Mission and Niles churches will be dedicated on the same day—probably on Thursday, January 2d—the services at Niles taking place in the morning and at Mission San Jose in the evening. A number of ministers from Oakland, San Francisco and neighboring towns, will assist in the services.

The Ladies' Guild met on Wednesday afternoon of last week with Mrs. H. A. Mayhew. Fifteen members were in attendance. The report of the secretary was read as to the results of the bazar, which have already been published. The sum of $250 was ordered paid toward the building fund of the church, leaving still a balance of $5 or $6 to be paid to the treasurer of the guild for future use. The meeting adjourned to Wednesday, January 8th, on account of holiday time; the next place appointed being at the residence of H. G. Ellsworth.

Another Supposed Murder Bordering Upon the Selvage Edge of White Chapel.

A heavy trunk was to have been moved from 203 Eighth street yesterday, and when the Express Company called for it they noticed a terrible obnoxious smell. Their curiosity was at once aroused, and the driver suggested opening the trunk. "Youst youse look a letle ouilt," was heard from the owner "Dot vas mine Limberger cheese dot youse smell, unt I vant mind drunk checked to Germany." "We check baggage to all parts of the United States," replied the driver of the Whitney Standard & Oakland Transfer Company. Their office is 422 Ninth street.

They Want the Earth.

A proposition is on foot among the business men and property owners on Washington street to change the name of that thoroughfare, the argument being that the name should be more up with the times. Just what name will be decided upon is not yet definitely known, but it has been suggested that the street be named after Joe Lancaster, the Washington street tailor, whose clothes are admired by everybody in the city. The very latest in checks and stripes are always displayed on his counters weeks before others get them, and his prices are considered the very lowest.

A Safe Investment

Is one which is guaranteed to bring you satisfactory results, or in case of failure a return of purchase price. On this safe plan you can buy from our advertised Druggist a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It is guaranteed to bring relief in every case, when used for any affection of Throat, Lungs or Chest, such as Consumption, Inflammation of Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Croup etc., etc. It is pleasant and agreeable to taste, perfectly safe and can always be depended upon.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.
EPPS'S COCOA
BREAKFAST,
"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—"Civil Service Gazette."

A Family Quarrel Among the Colored Men.

A STORMY MEETING OF THE LEAGUE.

Address by the Rev. D. E. Johnson—Razors in the Air—Delegates Elected to the Convention.

O, shades of Brer. Gardner and the Lime Kiln Club. O, memory of Vokey P. Chamberlain and Mrs. Woodworth. All of you, with the City Council of last fall, could not have formed a consolidated aggregation of talent (three large shows under one canvas) that would have compared with the performance given last night at the African Methodist Episcopal Church. There were razzers flying in the air, and the inmates of ten insane asylums could not have created more tumult.

The meeting was an adjourned one of the Colored Men's Protective League of Alameda county for the purpose of electing delegates to a State Convention to be held in this city on January 15th.

It was 9 o'clock before the meeting was called to order by Chairman Delaney and it was clear that trouble would soon follow. Furtive glances were cast to the rear of the room where were assembled a large delegation from San Francisco. Fred M. Moore was called upon to act as secretary, and a recess was taken to allow that officer time to fish up the minutes of the last meeting. The missing paper was shortly discovered in a drawer, but some one else had evidently written the notes, because the secretary could not translate them.

"Mr. Chairman," said W. J. Edmunds, "I move that the reading of the minutes be dispensed with."

"Mr. Chairman, let us hear those minutes," shouted another, and the trouble was on.

A rising vote was taken, during which several voted both ways, and the minutes were laid away.

Under the head of communications the following were read:

From the Stockton League, announcing the receipt of the call and stating that a meeting to elect delegates would be held shortly.

From P. T. McIntosh of San Francisco, sending regrets.

From J. A. Barbour, pleading a previous engagement, and so unable to appear and address the meeting.

From R. L. Barrett of San Jose, announcing his intention to do all he could for "the cause." Chairman Delaney announced that he had several others which he refused to bring with him, showing a favorable sentiment throughout the State.

The roll was then declared open to those desiring to join the league.

"Mr. Chairman," said Eugene Jackson of the San Francisco League, "I would like the privilege to address this meeting to ask a privileged question—"

A voice—Sit down.

Mr. Jackson—I desire simply to—

Chairman Delaney—I do not think we can hear the gentleman.

Mr. Jackson—But I only wanted to ask one—

"Sit down," shouted the entire assemblage.

"Mr. Chairman," said J. B. Wilson, "I object to this. We don't want to hear the gentlemen until we get through with our routine business."

"The gentleman from San Francisco will take his seat," thundered the chairman. Order having been once more restored Mr. Wilson was derailed to assist the secretary in obtaining the names of new members, and twelve were secured from those sitting around the stove in a far corner of the room.

Rev. D. E. Johnson was called upon for "a few remarks."

"Ladies and gentlemen," said he, "I thank you for your liberality in thus permitting me to address you. All the newspaper articles that I have read, all the speeches and lectures that I have heard which represent the negro as being a man with capability and a citizen to all intents and purposes, which represent him as being the equal of any other man and justly entitled to all rights and privileges of other citizens, I beg leave to sign my name in. There has been so very much said by others that a speech from me would be but a repetition of what has been said again and again. Still there is one thing, the negro is a citizen of the United States and he is here to stay. He is denied many privileges, especially in that part of the country where he has settled, and to all this we demur. We will admit that there has been a great deal done for us, but nothing will give us satisfaction or stop our meeting and petitioning short of allowing us equal rights and privileges with all other citizens of this great commonwealth.

"I think the present movement throughout the country among our people is a step in the right direction. All other branches are organized and are powerful, and I think we ought to be united, or as nearly so as possible. I think we ought to be careful about our statements and the resolutions which we pass in these meetings; that we demand our rights as citizens of the United States; that we don't encourage getting them by foul means, but that we expect that this Government should give them to us. We do not encourage nor we do not expect a war of races, and it is in order to prevent that that we would organize and put down any attempt to do that.

"This organization must take place in other parts of the country than the South. There they cannot organize, and the help must come from the North, West and East, and we must be very careful not to pass incendiary measures that would make others believe that we are encouraging the taking up of arms among our people of the South. Yet our enemies would construe it so. So let us be conservative in all our meetings, demanding things, not so much as negroes, but as citizens of this country. It is not our fault that we are citizens, neither is it our fault that we are treated as we are in this country.

"I am convinced that it is useless for us to attempt as great a thing as this without first creating public sentiment in our favor. I have watched that sentiment since I was a child. If there is any one who should love the negro it is the white man of the South. He has made them what they are. These boys who are now taking guns and killing the old negro once nursed at the black mammies' breasts, and were protected by the negroes whom they are killing now. These troubles must be effectually and quietly settled, and that too in a very few years, but it must be settled by organization. We must restrain our boys in that way lest their hot young blood shall boil over some time, and everybody should take an interest in it, as it will do more to keep peace in the country than any other organization, be it civil or political. It would be very foolish in the public press or in public speakers to cry out in alarm at our organization, because everybody knows that he plays the part of a parrot and he has always been on the right side. There has not been a war in this country but what negro blood has been shed in the cause. All the money in the treasury would not get him out of this country. He is loyal to his Government, and is prepared to show it.

Razors in the Air.

Here the secretary arose and after calling attention to the lateness of the hour, he made a motion to proceed with the selection of delegates.

A. F. Holland—Mr. Chairman, I do not think we are ready to elect delegates, I don't think we are united. We are—

Mr. Wilson—I object to his statements.

Mr. Holland—If they are reaching for San Francisco, or anywhere—

The Chairman—Take your seat!

Mr. Holland—But, Mr. Chairman, we are not properly organized.

"Mr. Chairman, I will again arise to denounce—." It was Mr. Edmunds, but that was all that could be heard. Everybody was on their feet and shouting to the chair, while some attempted to seat the unruly Holland, who was talking and gesticulating like a windmill. Holland refused to be seated, but what he said will never be known. The chairman split large splinters off his table pounding for order, and for a time it looked as if the meeting would end like the battle of the Kilkenny cats. Fists were shaken in each other's faces, chairs overturned, and the meeting transformed into a perfect bedlam.

Finally order was restored, but not until the excited Holland had completely exhausted his vocabulary.

The following delegates to the State convention were then nominated and elected:

R. A. Fields, Isaac Flood, Horace Winds, J. B. Purse, John B. Day, James Dyser, David Frisbie, Rev. D. E. Johnson, J. A. Herriott and George Segia.

Serious Charges.

"Now, Mr. Chairman," said W. J. Edmunds, "I move that the gentlemen from San Francisco be allowed to speak."

Mr. Holland—Ah, Mr. Chairman, at last—

Mr. Edmunds—Mr. Chairman, I did not know that Mr. Holland was a member of the San Francisco League before.

The excited gentleman referred to was pulled into his seat and Mr. Collins of San Francisco took the floor.

He complained of the actions of the Alameda League. He said it did not act in harmony with other leagues. He protested that California was not properly organized, all of which was largely due to the actions of the Alameda League. If there is discord in the very incipiency of the formation of the league no good can result. The people of the State, he claimed, are not in sympathy with the Alameda County League's action. A joint meeting had been held between the executive committees of San Francisco and Alameda, and a joint committee had been chosen to draft a call for a State Convention, to be held in San Francisco in February. Since then nothing had been heard of the call until it was learned that Alameda had come to the fore by changing the place of the convention and the date. The Alameda county executive committee did not have the support of its own people in Oakland, and the dates and plans had been changed through intrigue and fraud.

"Your own people will not sustain you," he said. "You have got some ax to grind and the call is a fraud on its very face. Your committee met secretly and changed the call without any authority whatever. It is a political codge. You called that convention for the same day that the national convention at Chicago meets so that the delegates could not get there, and you want to send them to Washington, where another national league, organized by political hucksters will meet, but which will not represent the colored people. It's a fraud, I say, on its very face."

Mr. Johnson—I trust the reporters present will omit the statement that the call is a fraud.

Mr. Collins—I can prove the assertions, reporters, and if you report me as I have spoken I will prove all my assertions.

Mr. Edmunds—Can any man say we have wronged the executive committee of San Francisco?

A voice—Yes, sir, we can!

Mr. Jackson of San Francisco then took the floor and reiterated the charges made by Mr. Collins.

The debate continued until after 11 o'clock with charges of bad faith on both sides.

What It Is All About.

As near as can be learned from the different factions, there is a bad split in the organization, both national and state.

Three national conventions have been called. The Alameda county league favors the meeting which has been called to assemble at Washington, where delegates will be present from the different States.

The San Francisco league favors a convention called by T. Thomas Fortune, to meet at Chicago. Fortune, Mr. Wilson claims, is a Democrat, a Republican, a Prohibitionist, a mugwump and a carpet-bagger, a man who will sell out his friends for personal advantages. He has associated with him similar men, all trying to create offices for themselves. They are not representatives of the colored people. Delegates from this convention are to be from the various organizations of colored people throughout the country.

There is also to be another convention at Chicago called the John Jones Convention.

The complaint of the San Francisco men was that the committees of the Alameda and San Francisco Leagues had met and elected Wilson chairman. They decided to hold a State Convention in San Francisco and Wilson was to issue the call. He failed to do so, and when a delegation called upon the league some time ago it was not recognized. After that conference the Alameda league received an invitation to send delegates to the Washington Convention and decided to do so, ignoring all former action. This they claim is unfair and assert that no one league has the power to call a State Convention. These charges the Alamedans do not deny, but in fact they admit calling another convention.

The meeting adjourned at about 11:30 P. M., and one gentleman was heard to remark: "De whole ting am here. Dese cullud Masons has brought their war outside de lodge room."

When the Pigs Begin to Fly.

A remarkable phenomenon is reported to have occurred in San Francisco at an early hour this morning, during a light rain. It is nothing less than a rain of crabs varying in size from a chinee to an oyster. Several hundred of the small animals are said to have fallen on California, Battery, and Morton streets, and created great consternation among some of the more superstitious. A number of the animals have been gathered and will be presented to the Academy of Science.

Turned Up.

J. S. G. Gordan, the real estate man, who was supposed to be missing, is reported to have turned up in San Francisco, and it is said that he has been there all along. His family has moved there.

A Lorin Case.

Joseph Manes of Lorin was arrested last evening on complaint of John Gelder and charged with disturbing the peace. He will be examined on Tuesday next in Justice Snook's court.

In the Mud.

The work of rebuilding the Tubbs Hotel horse car line was begun yesterday, but rain has stopped it again.

A Will for Probate.

The will of Susan Wilkinson, deceased, has been filed for probate in the Superior Court. The deceased left an estate valued at $2500, one half of which is bequeathed to her daughter, Ettie Evaline Wilkinson, and the other half to three children share and share alike.

JUBILEE JANE.

An Unprincipled Scheme to Send Her to the Insane Asylum to Reap the Benefit of Her Property.

Josslyn Cromer had his sister Jane, better known as "Jubilee Jane" on account of her continual singing, arraigned before the committee of examiners this morning in order to have her adjudged insane. The first question she answered properly, which was this "If you were going away Jane, what would be the first thing you would do?" The ready answer was, "I would telephone for the People's Express and Transfer Co., to check my trunk to New York." They check baggage to all parts of the United States from your residence; besides doing a general express and transfer business. Special care taken in moving furniture, pianos, etc. Call telephone 326, or leave your order at 423 Tenth street, and you will never be examined for insanity.

TO CHICAGO WITHOUT CHANGE.

Union Pacific Railway Excursions leave Oakland every Tuesday and Thursday, Pullman tourists cars from Oakland to Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha and Denver without change. The Union Pacific is the only line which runs cars through to these points via Ogden. Rate to Missouri River, $35. For full information apply to GEO. B. SEAMAN, Pass. Agent, Twelfth and Broadway.

LARGE and elegant line of musical goods at Clark Wise's, 1008 Broadway.

HOLIDAY CANDIES.

A Revolution in the Art of Candy Making.

When E. Lehnhardt commenced his candy business over two years ago, he inaugurated a new era in the candy business in Oakland. Purity and excellence have become synonimous terms for his delicious confections. As usual during the coming Christmas holidays he will have the largest stock of candy baskets, bon bonnieres, Christmas tree ornaments, etc., and his stock of candies will be the finest and freshest in the city.

Christmas Presents.

Christmas comes but once a year, and yet many people are puzzled what to buy their husband, wife or friend for a Christmas present. It is better to purchase something useful, and what is more useful than a good watch that will keep good time? For instance one of John Frey's elegant watches would make a lovely present; he has a large stock, both of ladies' and gents' watches, valuable diamonds and a complete line of jewelry purchased especially for the holidays. Remember the number, 1768 Seventh street.

Egg Nog For Christmas.

We must go out to Captain Selna's, as it is the only place you can get the Boss Egg Nog. A grand turkey raffle will begin Saturday, December 21st, at the "Boulevard," end of cable road. Captain Selna, proprietor.

F. R. GERARD sells pianos cheaper than any other house.

Honesty and Fair Dealings

Keeps two double teams and a one-horse wagon busy delivering solid comfort in the shape of parlor and bedroom suits, toys, holiday presents. Come and see our assortment of goods, suitable for rich and poor. We must sell "em" before the holidays. Bring your children, all little ones under 3 receive a present at H. Schellhaas', 408 Eleventh street.

HOUSE of seven rooms and bath to rent; two blocks from railroad station; low rent. Apply at 931 Pine street, West Oakland.

A Dollar a Week

Will buy a good gold watch at the Oakland Collateral Bank, 800 Washington street, near Seventh. Old watches and jewelry bought or exchanged.

CALL at 1220 San Pablo avenue, and select from 100 different kinds of CRACKERS, always fresh and crisp.

BREAKING THE SPINDLES.

Damaging Machinery at the East Oakland Jute Mill

The superintendent of the jute mill at East Oakland has been greatly annoyed by constant damage to the delicate machinery, undoubtedly caused on purpose by boys employed there in order to have loafing time of an hour or two while repairs were made. The damage to the company by these breaks was thousands of dollars, says Mr. Robertson. He kept a careful watch and today detected five little Portuguese boys breaking the machinery. He arrested them for malicious mischief and they were taken to the city prison.

The Cable Curves.

The Piedmont Cable Company has a large force of men employed today in grading Eighth street, between Clay and Washington, at the point where the gravity curve is to be put in for the inspection of the Board of Works.

Will Visit Oakland.

The Pan American Congress has accepted an invitation to visit the Pacific coast, and will probably get here some time in February. They will spend one day in Oakland and will inspect the harbor. Colonel C. F. Crocker has been chosen chairman of the transportation committee.

A Minstrel Company.

Lew Johnson's minstrels will play at the Oakland Theater on Friday and Saturday evening. The company is composed of twenty colored men, singers, dancers and comedians. Two drum majors precede the uniformed band in the street parade.

The Duke's Sales.

Howard Shaw was allowed by Judge Laidlaw this morning until Friday to plead to the charge of selling liquor without a license at his saloon on San Pablo avenue.

Contesting a Title.

The suit of L. M. Beaudry against John Doyle et al. to quiet title to a certain strip of land near Berkeley is on trial before a jury in the Superior Court this afternoon.

Thrown Out.

James Wallace of the New York Tea Company was thrown from his buggy on Sunday last and severely injured. He is confined to his house on Eighth street.

Popular Excursions.

The Southern Pacific Company soon expects to inaugurate a system of special excursions from various points on its lines in California to Oakland returns, beginning with the first of the year. By this means a great many people can be brought to Oakland who would not otherwise come, and all will be shown through the magnificent furniture establishment of Avery Schellhaas, at 902 Eleventh street, to inspect his wonderful bargains.

Fire on Twelfth Street.

Yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock ladies were in the Eastern Hair Store, No. 405 Twelfth street, between Broadway and Franklin, having their hair dressed and hairs shampooed by Mrs. L. S. Silberberg. They were heard to say they could always find a fire on Twelfth street, as well as all the comforts of home to have any kind of hair work done, and never suffer from the cold blasts of December, which now chills the marrow in your bones.

A Present to Be Appreciated.

A most desirable present to a gentleman on Christmas is a new suit of clothes. It is something which he can use and enjoy to more advantage than anything else. Of course the suit should come from some but a first class tailor, and therefore the attention of the public is called to P. J. O'Connor at 1011 Broadway. His stock of fall and winter goods is the most elaborate in the city and his fashion plates the very latest published. Good suits are made here better than at any other establishment in the city, and O'Connor's prices are the most reasonable to be found either in Oakland or in San Francisco.

"A 82. Washing Machine Free."

To introduce them, we will give away 1000 self-operating washing machines. No washboard or rubbing required. If you want one send to Monarch Laundry Works, 25 Pacific avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

CORNUCOPIAS, Christmas tree ornaments and pure candies for Christmas at 1011 Broadway.
